DBT SPONSORED FIVE DAYS HANDS ON TRAINING – LATEX

Title: FIVE DAYS HANDS ON TRAINING -LATEX

Date: 12-07-2021 to 16-07-2021

Venue: Google Meet

Time: 10:30 am to 12:30 pm

Resource Person: Mr. S. Alagupandi

Total number of beneficiaries: 43

Technical Head – Training, AAKAM Industrial

(III B.Sc Maths – 43)

Training and Research Institute, Coimbatore.

Five Days Hands on Training, was conducted from 12th July 2021 to 16th July 2021. Mr. S. Alagupandi, Technical Head – Training, AAKAM Industrial Training and Research Institute, Coimbatore was the Resource Person. LATEX software is used universally for the documentation. In this present scenario manuscripts are everything. Content is really important and requires a tremendous amount of work. In the case of writing manuscripts, one must consider spending some time learning LaTeX to make the difference in the final outcome. Manuscripts written in MS Word diminishes the value of the manuscript.

LaTeX is widely used in academia for the communication and publication of scientific documents in many fields, including mathematics, statistics, computer science, engineering, physics, economics, linguistics, quantitative psychology, philosophy, and political science. It also has a prominent role in the preparation and publication of books and articles that contain complex multilingual materials such as Sanskrit and Greek.

In order to enhance the skills of our students in documentation, Hands on training was provided in LATEX. Every Year the final year Undergraduate students undergo a project. Latex provides a clear and easy way to document the data. Students are trained to type in LATEX. The advantages include an easy way to quote the references, a professional way to exhibit the mathematical equations, an elegant way to represent tables and flow charts. An idea of Beamer, the presentation using LATEX was also thought to the students. The hands-on training was organized to encourage students to take up projects for typing in LATEX, which is the need of the hour, in documentation. This training will also help them to self-employ themselves in the near future.

Transferred Rs. 10000 to Mr. S. Alagupandi

Bangalore.

DATE: 15th & 16th July 2021

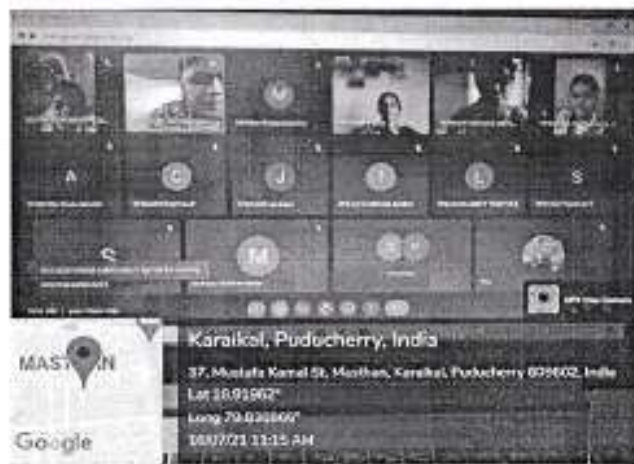

TOTAL NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES: 600 participants attended on both the days and 587 filled in the feedback form.

The session was held on 15th and 16th July 2021 from 9:30am to 11:00am. It started with a prayer song by Infant Sofia followed by the welcome address by Rashika Anil.

In the first session Mam taught us about excel and how to use different functions of excel such as logical functions, text functions and statistical functions. We also learnt about Poisson distribution which is a probability distribution that can be used to show how many times an event is likely to occur within a specified period of time, normal distribution and chi square test which is used for testing relationships between categorical variables. We even learnt about ANOVA test using excels which is used to check if the means of two or more groups are significantly different from each other. Not only mam just taught but she even made us to work on excel sheets. The session ended with everyone clarifying their doubts followed by a vote of thanks by Ancila Benzy.

DBT SPONSORED INTERDEPARTMENTAL GUEST LECTURE

TITLE: Interdepartmental Guest lecture on Skill development- statistical quality control

VENUE: Google meet

SPEAKER: MS. Divya V R,

Assistant professor,

St. Clare College,

Bangalore.

DATE: 19.07.2021

TOTAL NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES: 100 Students attended and 97 filled in the feedback form.

The session was held on July 19, 2021 from 9:30am to 11:00am. It started with a prayer song by Infant Sofia followed by the welcome address by Aishwarya G. Ms.Divya mam started the session on the topic Quality control of a product. Mam taught us how to control and check the quality of a product with many examples.

She even taught us about natural tolerance limit that they are the control limits placed at three times the standard deviation from the process. Acceptance samplings are used to determine whether to accept or reject a production. She even taught us about control charts and its types and its uses to study how a process changes over time, variables and attributes, reasons why we use control charts. We even learnt how to calculate the control limits, SQC that is statistical quality control which gives an early warning of defects and it reveals whether the production process is in control or not and we even learnt some of its benefits that it avoids the need for the costs of cent per cent inspection by pointing out trouble spots. We learnt about many statistical terms. It was a knowledgeable session. The session ended with everyone clarifying their doubts followed by the vote of thanks by Jyoti Kumai

Transferred Rs.2000 to Ms. Divya V R,

DBT SPONSORED WORKSHOP ORGANIZED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

Title : MODELING THROUGH DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS
Venue : Google Meet
Speaker : Dr. Isha Dhiman
Assistant Professor
School of Mathematics
Thapar Institute of Engineering and Technology
Patiala

Total number of beneficiaries : 38 (II B.SC STUDENTS)

On 25th August 2021, the workshop started by invoking the blessings of God Almighty through a prayer song at 9.30 am. Dr. U. Mary, Dean of Student Affairs and Head of the Department of Mathematics, Nirmala College for women addressed the event. Dr. Isha Dhiman delivered a clear cut view on the topic. She explained about mathematical modeling from the basics as to what is modeling and why we need modeling and how to apply modeling in mathematics. Mathematical Modeling through differential equation being tricky and not so easy to understand, Dr. Isha made it way more easier with her legible presentation and detailed simple explanations and examples by starting it from the definition of modeling.

Step wise explanation of mathematical modeling was given and then differential equations were explained. Brief note on dynamical and statistical systems, exogenous variables, black box & white box were also given during the workshop. Moreover, when, where and how to use linear, non-linear and differential equations were also explained. Questions were posted and suggestions were also asked in between the session to break the monotony. The workshop was divided into two sessions and lasted till 12.45pm. it was a completely useful session and a wide range of information was delivered in a short span of time.

From the feedback form, 75.7% of the participants assessed as excellent and 24.3% assessed the guest lecture to be good. 56.8% of the students felt the workshop to be useful to apply in future works.

Date : 28.08.2021

Dr.R. Thangappan, Assistant Professor, Department of energy science, Periyar University, Salem has delivered a presentation on the topic recent advances in electrode materials for energy storage applications. Energy storage plays an important role in the development of portable electronic devices, electric vehicles and large-scale electrical energy storage applications for renewable energy, such as solar and wind power. Lithium-ion batteries (LIBs) have dominated most of the first two applications due to the highest energy density and long cycle life. He also explained about the Advantages, disadvantages and future directions on the existing electrode materials.

Report for Inaugural Meeting of “Solar Energy Club”

Date: 22.09.2021

No. of Students: 150

The lecture session on solar energy was delivered by Dr. B. Janarthanan, Professor and Head, Department of Physics, Karpagam University, Coimbatore. He spoke about the importance of solar energy as a renewable source of energy. In the present energy crisis scenario, solar energy is a cheap and viable solution for our energy needs. The sun's radiation reaching the surface of the earth is called insolation. Sometimes sun's rays are reflected by the atmosphere and we get only diffuse radiation and in the afternoon the sun's rays are more intense.

He explained how a solar water heater works and the various materials used in the transport of water in a water heater. He said copper, brass, iron can also be used in the construction of a solar water heater. He also explained about the construction and working of a solar cooker and its importance in cooking food items like rice, dhal vegetables etc. During rainy season a solar cooker can't be used. He had given a brief explanation on solar distillation unit, solar pond and solar water heater.

Report:

The PG and Research Department of Chemistry organised a Webinar on 04.06.2021 in association with the Institution Innovation Cell, through the Google meet platform. The resource person invited was Dr. V. Suryanarayanan, Principal Scientist, CSIR - CECRI, specialised in the field of Electroorganic and Materials. The session began by giving the first and foremost thanks to God Almighty through a prayer song by Keziah Gracelin. J, I B.Sc. Chemistry. The Honorable Chief Guest was introduced to the gathering through a welcome address delivered by Jerolena. R. J, I B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the speaker.

Dr. Suryanarayanan began by introducing the most famous CSIR - CECRI laboratory, the respectable founder of the lab and its contributions to the nation's scientific research. Dr. Suryanarayanan commenced his presentation by giving a brief introduction about the nanoparticles, its discovery and synthesis. The talk proceeded to the core topic by explaining various research publications of foreign scientists and the improvisation provided by the CECRI lab scientists in terms of cost efficiency and the use of environmentally sustainable carbon based materials. Dr. Suryanarayanan pointed out the work of himself and his associates done on the synthesis and application of nanoparticles as cathode in electro deposition. The speaker's research was entirely focused on using a carboxylation mechanism on various metals like copper, nickel, samarium, cobalt to synthesize a suitable, highly efficient cathode.

Dr. Suryanarayanan also illustrated how an entirely carbon based cathode can be used in place of the transition metal based cathodes. The speaker gave an explanation of how lithium ion batteries can be replaced by sodium ion batteries in which carbon based anode materials especially, disordered graphitic carbon, have attracted more interest than perfectly stacked/ordered graphite. In addition to this information, he spoke about the incorporation of hetero atoms like nitrogen, boron, sulfur and phosphorus into the carbon matrix that exhibited ingenious physicochemical properties, particularly the nitrogen doped carbon materials were more attractive because of its lower atomic radii and higher electronegativity than that of the carbon. Furthermore, the talk continued about the nitrogen atom incorporated graphitic networks that exhibited improved electrochemical performance towards sodium ion storage which was a vulnerable process that required toxic chemicals and created environmental disputes. He concluded the webinar by motivating the UG and PG students to pursue their career start-ups for their contribution to the nation's development in sustainable science, technology and economy. About 81 participants benefited from this informative lecture. The session came to an end with Gowmari. R, I B.Sc. Chemistry rendering the vote of thanks.

REPORT:

The first session started on 9.30 am on the topic Sustainability in Energy Production through the virtual mode - Google Meet platform. The resource person for the session was Dr. P. Prabunathan, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, PSG Institute of Technology and Applied Research, Coimbatore. The formal welcome address for the conference was given by Dr. N. Gunavathy, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of Chemistry. The honorable speaker was welcomed by Lenora Jenith. J II B.Sc Chemistry. Then the session was taken over by Dr. P. Prabunathan, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry initiated his speech by giving a short introduction on what is energy, production of energy, and how it can be produced in a sustainable way. He continued by insisting the fact that the whole world is using fossil fuel, it becomes very very low because of the increase in the consumption. There are many fuel components which is used now a days but all the fuels at last end up with the emission of carbon di oxide. The amount of carbon di oxide in the atmosphere is drastically increasing now a days.

He declared that sustainability is very important in order to reduce the risk of increasing carbon di oxide in the atmosphere. Such sustainability can be achieved only by the using of natural fossil fuels. For example natural gas can double up the efficiency. Power can in turn be generated from natural renewable resources like sun, wind, hydrothermal. However, we cannot deduce the requirement/ demand of the growing energy needs. At the end of the session the doubts of the students, faculty members were clarified by the speaker Dr. P. Prabunathan. The session came to an end at 10.45.pm by the formal vote of thanks by Dency .S.Gloria of III B.Sc. Chemistry.

Time : 11:00 am - 12:15 pm (Second Session)
Platform : Google Meet
Topic : Metal – Organic Frameworks & their applications
Resource Person : Dr. Kulandaivel Sivasankar,
Post Doctorial Researcher,
Department of Chemistry,
National Taiwan Normal University,
Taipei, Tiwan.

REPORT:

The second session started at 11:00 am on the topic 'Metal – Organic Frameworks & their applications' through google meet platform. The resource person invited was Dr. Kulandaivel Sivasankar, Post Doctorial Researcher, Department of Chemistry, National Taiwan Normal University, Taipei, Tiwan. The Honourable Chief Guest was welcomed by Jerolena. R. J, II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest, Dr. Kulandaivel Sivasankar.

Dr. Kulandaivel Sivasankar commenced his presentation by giving a brief introduction about what is Metal – Organic Framework (MOF). Metal – Organic Frameworks are crystalline porous solids composed of a three – dimensional network of metal ions held in place by multidentate organic molecules. The synthesis of MOFs involves the process of crystallization during which the nucleation and growth of crystals occur. The nucleation and growth of MOF crystals involve the self-assembly between metal-oxygen clusters and organic linkers. The characterization methods were discussed in detail. Dr. Kulandaivel Sivasankar explained in depth the functional applications of MOFs. Numerous applications in many fields are being developed that exploit MOFs' cage-like structure such as gas storage and separation, liquid separation and purification, electrochemical energy storage, catalysis and sensing. The doubts of the students were clarified after the presentation. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Jaya Princy, A of II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session came to an end at 12:30pm.

Date: 20.07.2021

Time	: 09.30 am to 10.45 am (Third Session)
Platform	: Google Meet
Topic	: Small molecules approaches for the development of anti –SARS-CoV-2 drugs
Resource Person	: Dr. Thanigaimalai Pillaiyar Independent Group Leader Institute of Pharmacy Pharmaceutical/ Medicinal Chemistry and Tuebingen Center for Academic Drug Discovery Germany

REPORT:

The Department of Chemistry, Nirmala College for Women hosted two days International Conference on 19th and 20th of July. The third session started at 09:30am on the topic 'Small molecule approaches for the development of SARS-CoV-2 drugs' through google meet platform. The resource person invited was Dr. Thanigaimalai Pillaiyar, an independent research group leader, Pharmaceutical chemistry, Pharmaceutical Institute, Eberhard-Karls-University of Tuebingen, Germany. The session proceeded by a formal address and prayer by Ms. Keziah Gracelin. J. The respected Chief Guest was welcomed by Mrinalini J Shah, II M.Sc. Chemistry.

Dr. Thanigaimalai Pillaiyar commenced his presentation by giving a brief introduction about his current research work in the field of SARS COVID. The causative agent of SARS a novel human coronavirus (SARS-CoV), and its viral protease, SARS-CoV 3CL^{pro}, has been shown to be essential for replication and has hence been recognized as a potent drug target for SARS infection. Dr. T. Pillaiyar described here mainly peptidomimetic and small molecule inhibitors of SARS-CoV 3CL (pro). Attempting to provide a complete description of the structural features and binding modes of these inhibitors under many conditions the session went on till 10.45 AM.

It was explained that SARS-CoV 3CL^{pro} forms as a dimer with the two promoters (denoted as "A" and "B") oriented almost at right angles to each other. The crystal structure of the SARS-CoV 3CL^{pro}, similar those of other 3CL^{pro}, comprises three domains. The SARS-CoV 3CL^{pro} dimer is highly active, while the monomer is principally inactive. 3CL^{pro} are cysteine proteases, which are analogues to the main pi coronavirus 3C protease, a family of viruses that also cause respiratory illness. Many structural and non-structural proteins are known to be potential targets for anti-corona virus therapy, none of them are well-conserved due to their possible role in the viral life cycle, thus limiting the potential success of wide-spectrum inhibitors. In contrast, the coronavirus 3CL^{pro} is highly conserved among coronaviruses, making it an attractive target for broad-spectrum inhibitors. A feasible and rapid advancement in the drug discovery for the development of effective chemotherapeutics against SARS-CoV might be achieved by repurposing existing and clinically approved drugs

The doubts of the students were clarified after the presentation. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Monisha. A of II I B.Sc. Chemistry. The session came to an end at 11:00 AM.

Time : 11:00 am - 12:15 pm (Fourth Session)
Platform : Google Meet
Topic : Dr. M. Manoj
Assistant Professor (Senior Grade)
Department of Chemistry
PSG Institute of Technology and Applied Research
Coimbatore - 641 062
Tamil Nadu, India

Resource Person : Heart failure drugs. A Medicinal Chemistry Perspective

REPORT:

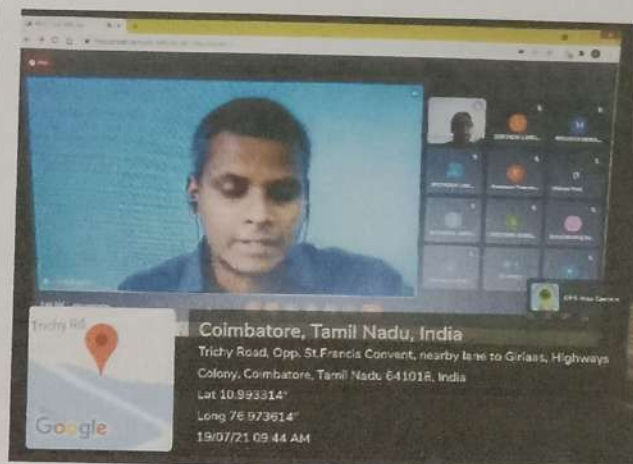

. The second session for the day 2 was started at 11:00am on the topic 'Heart failure Drugs: A Medicinal Chemistry Perspective' delivered by the honorable resource person Dr. M. Manoj, Assistant Professor (Senior Grade), Department of Chemistry, PSG Institute of Technology and Applied Research, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu, India. The Honorable Chief Guest was welcomed by Hafsa Parveen III B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest.

Dr. Manoj have started from the basic structure of heart to the major diseases of heart. He briefed about the 75% of heart failures are due to coronary artery diseases and heart attacks, while other heart diseases contributing to 25%. He explained about the cholesterol's role in causing coronary heart diseases and chemistry behind heart failures. The enzyme activity taking place in 37 steps to break down cholesterol happens in the body within a day while it takes to 2 or 3 years to prepare drugs with such activity.

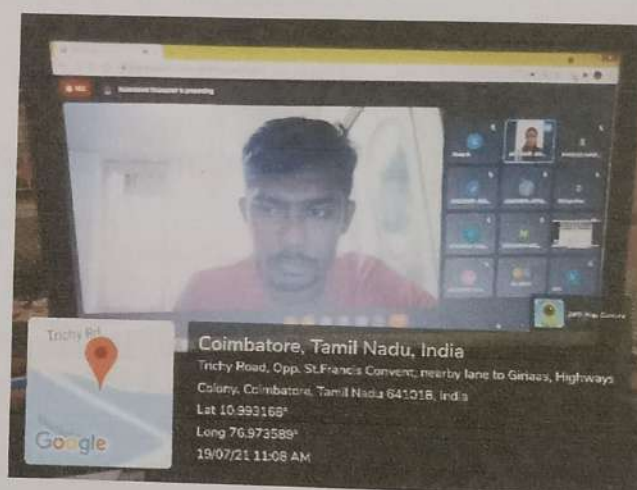

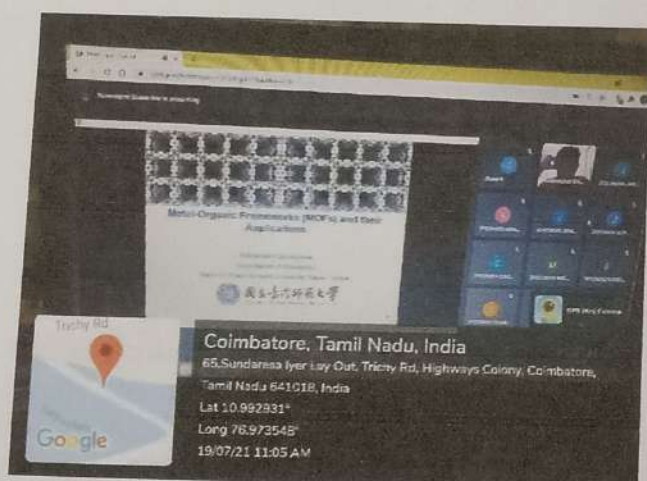

Dr. M. Manoj briefed about the importance of statin drugs in treating heart diseases and emphasized about the life saving medicine 'Atorvastin' and also discussed about his work on sulfonamide phenyl ethyl urea as cardiac myosin activators, the effect of substituents, the role of urea in synthesizing drugs for heart failures. He had presented and explained with full enthusiasm in an interactive manner. He also detailed about phenyl propyl urea cardiac myosin activators for the treatment of systolic heart failure.

Dr. M. Manoj cleared all the doubts at the end of the session. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by T. R. Sowburmika. of II M.Sc. Chemistry. The final valedictory address was presented by Dr. P. Kalaivani, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, Nirmala College for Women. The session came to an end at 12:30 pm. There were around 100 participants

REPORT

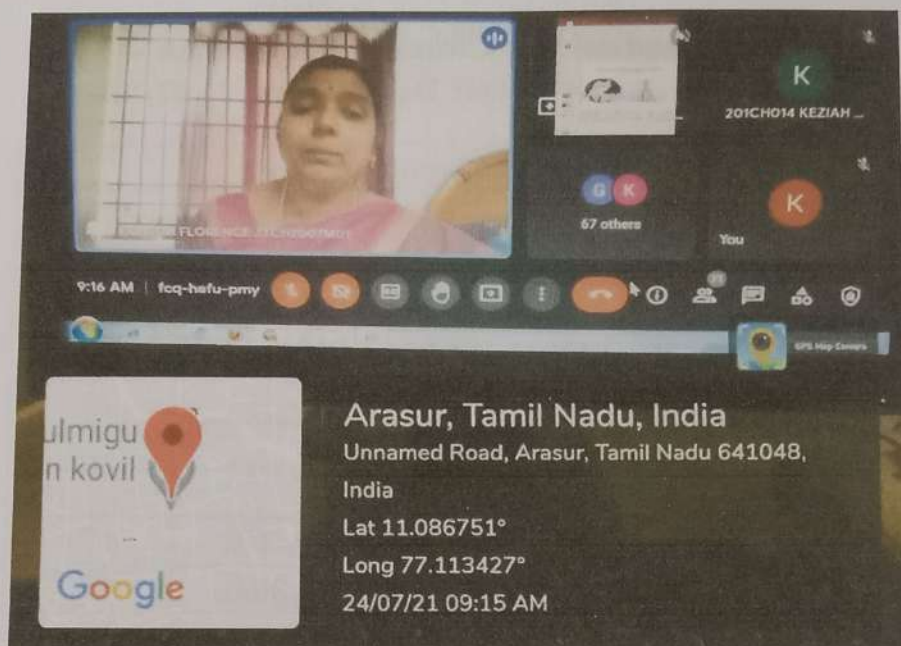

The Department Of Chemistry organized a DBT funded Chemistry Association inaugural meeting on 24.07.2021 at 8:30 am on the topic 'Chemistry in Our Daily Life' through google meet platform. The resource person invited was Dr. J. Felicita Florence, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, Holy Cross College, Tiruchirappalli. The Association inaugural meeting was lead by Sneka.S, III B.Sc. Chemistry. The inaugural started by giving chiefly thanks to the Almighty God through a prayer song by Jerolena. R. J of II B.Sc. Chemistry. The Honorable Chief Guest and the gathering were welcomed by Keziah Gracelin. J, II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest, Dr. J. Felicita Florence.

Dr. J. Felicita Florence commenced her presentation by giving a brief introduction about chemistry. The branch of science which deals with matter is called chemistry. It also deals with their properties and reactions and the use of such reactions to form a new substance. Anything that has mass and occupies space is called matter. Chemistry is a big part of our everyday life. It is observed in the food we eat, the air we breathe, various cleansing agents we use and the human emotions which results in chemical reaction in our body.

Dr. J. Felicita Florence explained the how chemistry plays a major role in our daily activities like our tooth paste, coffee, onion, water, etc. In olden days we use neem sticks for cleaning our teeth. Now tooth pastes are used instead in which chemistry is used to know the amount of flavours to be added. In coffee, caffeine drug along with some other chemicals are used. Our body secretes lots of chemicals which help us to be very active. Water plays a major roll and keeps our body hydrated.

Dr. J. Felicita Florence showed a video on how onions make us cry. The sulfuric acid present in the onions bursts when we chop it. The sulfuric acid mixes with the fluid in our eyes and makes us cry. It gave us a clear and lively idea about how we live with chemistry. The doubts of the students were clarified after the presentation. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Mrinalini. J. Shah of II M.Sc. Chemistry. Chemistry department inaugural got over at 9.45 am.

There were around 74 participants among which, Nirmala College for Women Professors – 8
Nirmala College for Women students – 66

Feedback for chemistry in "our daily life"

Date: 24/09/21

Name of the participant: Sneha.S (191CH036)

Dr. J. Felicitia Florence spoke on the topic chemistry in our daily life thoughtfully. She explained the various chemicals and the various reactions that we come across daily. Chemistry in our daily life is explained through various day to day examples like boiling ~~water~~ vegetables in water by adding salts, chemistry behind cutting an onion & tears, chemicals in coffee, food, tea, toiletries etc.. That was really a thought provoking session. & sincerely thank our department of chemistry for organising this programme

REPORT:

A guest lecture on was organized by the Department of Chemistry on 26th August 2021. The session began with an amazing introduction to the guest speaker Dr. A. Murugesh. He was an affluent speaker and drove us towards the basics of spectroscopy before getting deeper into the topic. Every stage involved a series of well framed questions to test the knowledge perception of the students from the talk. The basics covered dealt with the definitions of spectroscopy, frequency, wavelength and the relation between these terms and energy. Further moving Each type of waves were spoken about in brief and then nuclear spin and the absorption mechanism was discussed in detail. Following these the Resonance and population densities of nuclear spin states were calculated. There were around 80 participants.

REPORT:

The session was enthusiastically started by recollecting the definitions from previous lecture and further different NMR solvents, their properties and pros and cons were discussed. The various effects and reasons for shielding and deshielding and the shift of bands upfield and downfield were interrelatedly explained taught and the factors affecting these were each discussed in utmost detailed manner. Calculating chemical shift was taught and to evaluate the students based on the session various past paper GATE, CSIR NET and IIT-JAM questions were posed, solved and explained. A brief introduction to types of NMR was given and Equivalent and non-equivalent protons were discussed along with the instrumentation of a CW and FT NMR spectroscopy. Topics like Deuterium exchange, chemical shift reagents and spin-spin coupling were taught. The speaker explained the basic concepts of Spectroscopy and explained the application of spectroscopy, NMR in particular in research and development with examples. He explained to observe local magnetic fields around atomic nuclei. He emphasized the experimentation and predictable features of NMR. The lecture served as a great opportunity for the students as it provided an intuitive learning and opened new horizons for them. There were around 80 participants.

Report

In commemoration with National DNA day, the Department of Chemistry organized the DBT Star College Scheme funded two days International Conference on “Accelerating Research on DNA: Current Trends & Future Directions” virtually on 25th & 26th August 2021 at 11:00 am through Google meet platform.

The first day of the conference was led by Barbaral Vinitha S., II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was started by giving thanks to the Almighty God through a prayer song by Jaya Princy A., of II B.Sc. Chemistry. The Honourable Chief Guest and the gathering were welcomed by Lenora Jenith J., II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest, Dr. Namasivayam Ganesh Pandian.

Dr. Namasivayam Ganesh Pandian commenced the session by giving a brief introduction about his Institute which is 'Kyoto University's Institute for Integrated Cell-Material Science'. He then quoted a Tamil Thirukural which means "Know the disease, its root cause and develop the procedures to cure the same by appropriate medicine and delivery tools". The history of the disease we are dealing with should be known completely before we start developing a cure to the disease. After knowing the disease we must curate a proper way to control the disease. People from yesterday created medicine on symptom-based systems where the failure of the medicine and adverse effects were more than the positive effect of it. People from today create medicine by Evidence-based where we get a considerable amount of positive effect with little failure and adverse effects. If the people in future start creating medicines by Tailored, Omics-based (Genetic biomarker, Imaging, phenotypic, and psychological characteristics, patients's preference) we would get medicines with no failure or adverse effect and would get medicines with complete positive effect. The disease should be addressed directly by knowing its root cause rather than addressing its symptoms.

Dr. Namasivayam Ganesh Pandian then explained the DNA-based Genetic Switches which can turn the Good genes ON and the Bad genes OFF. Promoter-Specific transcription suppression where a molecule, Pyrrole (P) Imidazole (I) Polyamides (PIP) is used to make modifications on a targeted gene or stem cells. It is a tunable, transgene-free, cheap and clinical-friendly strategy to reset cell type factors. The Mitochondrial dysfunction and diseases can be cured by Mitochondrial Gene Switch where the MITO-PIP enters the membrane along with the Mitochondrial Penetrating Peptide (MPP) which triggers the promoter-specific transcription of ND6. The PIP also alters the cancer mutation. SAHA which is an Epigenetic switch combines with PIP molecule which is a selective DNA binder to alter the specific genes of the DNA.

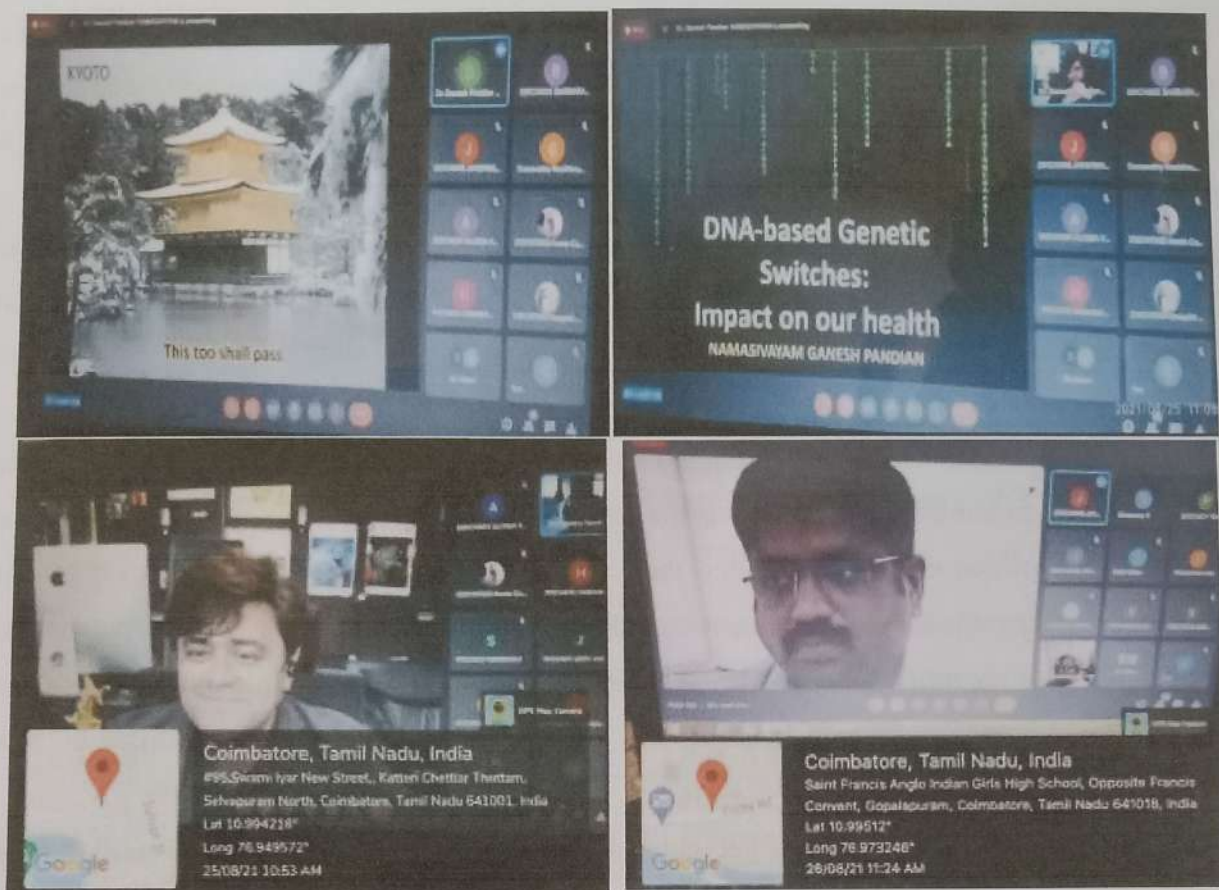

The presentation gave us a detailed, in-depth knowledge about the DNA-based genetic switches which bring forth the DNA-based approach to medicinal and pharmaceutical science. The doubts of the students were clarified after the presentation. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Srimathi P, of II B.Sc. Chemistry.

The second day session was led by Keziah Gracelin.J, II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was started with a prayer song by Jaya Princy. A of II B.Sc Chemistry. The honorable Chief Guest and the gathering were welcomed by Eva Vinishya. A of II B.Sc Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest, Dr. R. Sivasamy.

Dr. R. Sivasamy started his presentation by giving a brief introduction about Genetics, traits, chromosomes and DNA. Genetics is the study of heredity. Heredity is a biological process where a parent passes certain genes onto their children. The characteristics that an organism inherits from its parents are called traits. It includes blood group, skin, shape of nose, person hair color etc. Some of the traits can be modified by environmental influence while others cannot. For example, Blood type is an inherent trait that will not change but height can be modified by what you eat and by other factors.

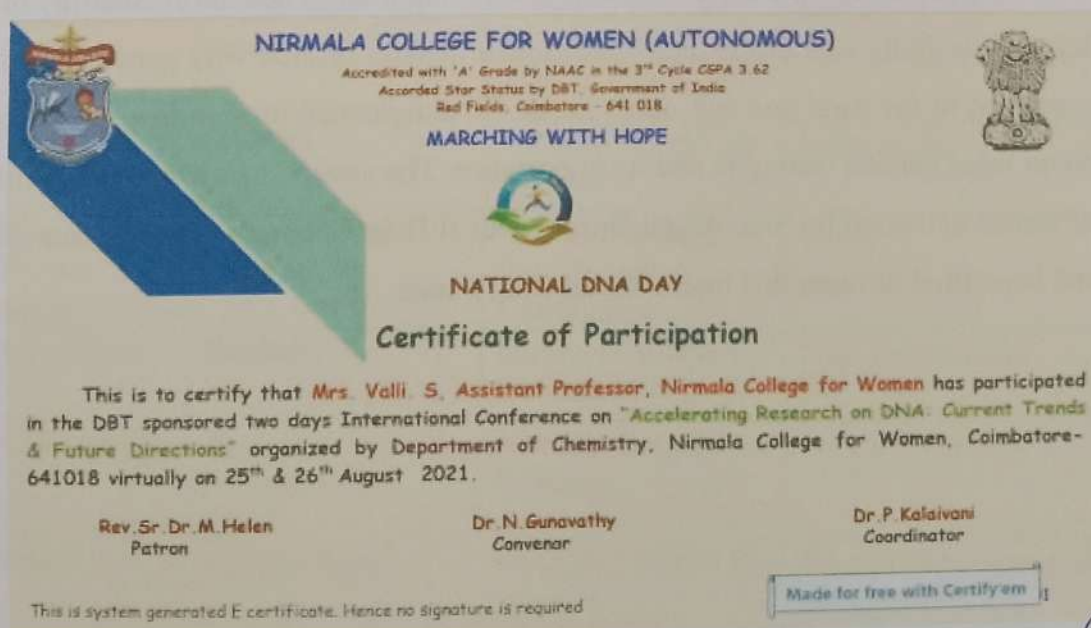

He explained about how genes get mutated and also about different types of mutation. He then clearly elaborated on genetic testing in all stages of life. Like carrier testing, prenatal testing, pre implementation tests, forensic testing and newborn screening etc. Different testing's are performed for various particular purposes. A clear idea about PCR, karyo typing in disease diagnosis was given.

He explained how early diagnosis is very important. Then the availability of genetic testing services in India was discussed. The resource person briefed why genetic services have to be improved in the rural and sub urban areas. He enlightened its significance. It gave a clear idea about what genetic testing is and its importance. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Sree Alagu Nithya. S of II B.Sc Chemistry. 84 students were participated and benefitted through this international Conference.

REPORT

Entrepreneurial Development Training Programme on “Vegetable Dyeing Process and Textile Printing” was organized under DBT Star College scheme for 29 students of II B.Sc Chemistry on 08.09.2021. Dr. N. Gunavathy, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of Chemistry, briefed about dyes and pigments, types of dyes – synthetic dyes and sources of natural dyeing, various process of dyeing. She explained the various steps for natural dyeing using vegetable. She also explained the evolution of textile printing from block Printing to the latest screen printing. Making of design, preparation of printing screen, colour pastes and also demonstrated screen printing. Students were given hands on training in vegetable dyeing and screen printing. Students gained confidence for starting small scale business for printing like visiting card, notices, cloth bags, gift bags, jute bags, advertisement banners, print on kerchief, pillow covers, sarees, banians etc.

Report:

In commemoration with NATIONAL CHEMISTRY WEEK, the Department of Chemistry organized the DBT Star College Scheme funded International Webinar on "Nanomaterials - Small Science; Big Hopes" virtually on 23rd October 2021 at 2.00 pm through Google meet platform. Dr. Sureshkumar Manthiriyappan, IBDP Chemistry Faculty, Gyeonggi Academy of Foreign Languages, South Korea was served as the resource Person.

The webinar was lead by Ms. J. Keziah Gracelin, II B.Sc.Chemistry. The session was started by invoking God's blessings through a prayer song by Ms.A.Jayaprincy of II B.Sc.Chemistry and welcome Address delivered by Ms.P.Srimathi of II B.Sc.Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest Dr.Sureshkumar Manthiriyappan.

Dr. Sureshkumar Manthiriyappan commenced his presentation by giving a quote "A person who has not made her/his great contribution to science before the age of 30 will never do so". He explained the importance of contribution to science by young people. Then he moved on to the topic "Nanomaterials ". Nanomaterials are commonly defined as materials with an average grain size less than 100 nanometers. Nanomaterials are extremely small in size. Nanomaterials are used in a variety of manufacturing processes, products and Healthcare. Currently, the most relevant nanomaterials for the paint and coating industry are Nanoscale titanium dioxide and silicon dioxide.

The Resource person then explained about the usage and importance of nanomaterials for the society. New material in the right place and at the right time can launch a successful and sustainable industry. He briefed about the Sustainable Development Goals in detail like No Poverty, Zero Hunger, Good Health and Well being, Quality Education, Gender Equality, Climate Action and clean water.

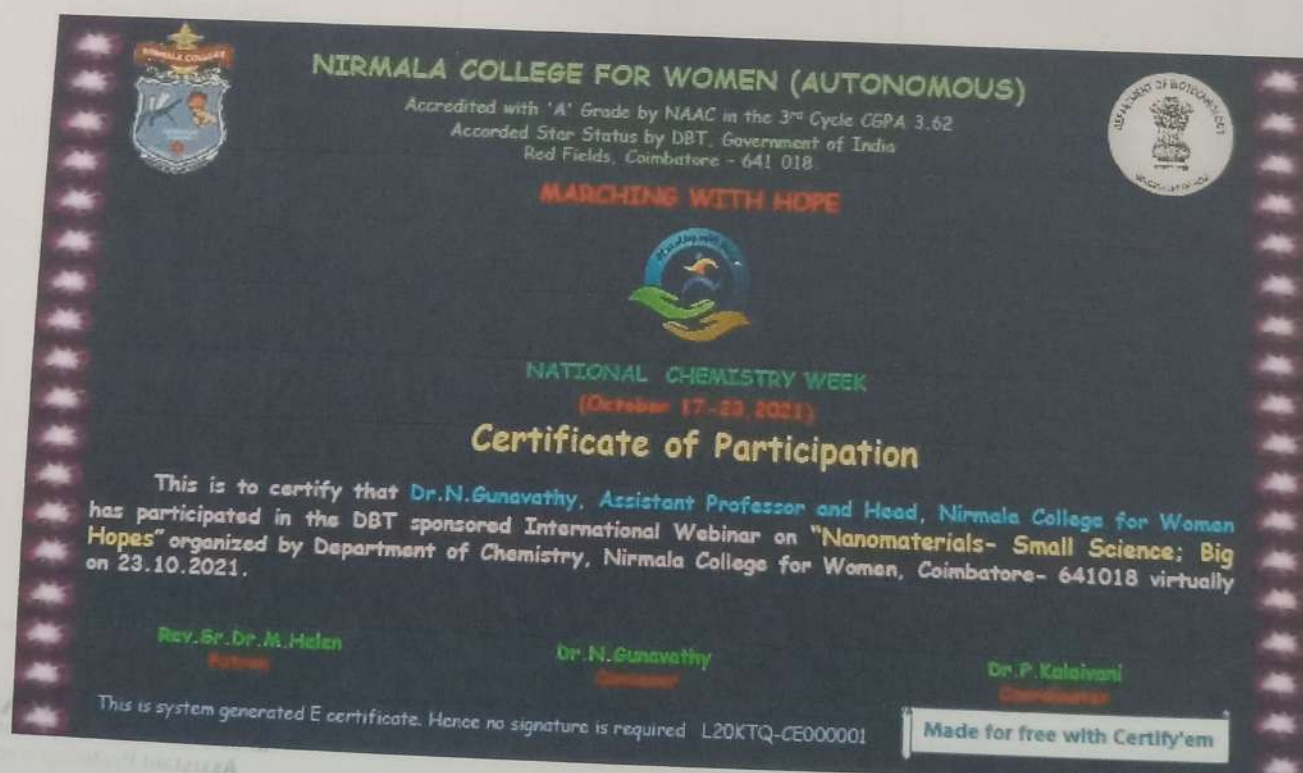

He described about the "vulcanized rubber" invented by Charles Goodyear in 1839. The invention of new rubber products advanced the automobile industry, freeing motorists from unwieldy iron wheels.

Then he explained in detail about the advanced oxidation water treatment. It is a set of chemical treatment procedures designed to remove organic (and sometimes inorganic) materials in water and waste water by oxidation through reactions of hydroxyl radicals.

The doubts of the students were clarified by the chief guest after the presentation. 79 students actively participated in this webinar. The session came to an end with the formal vote of thanks which was delivered by Ms.S.Jesi of II B.Sc.Chemistry. 79 students actively participated in this webinar.

The Department of Chemistry organized the DBT Star College Scheme funded two days International Conference on “Pioneering Emerging Opportunities & Exploring New Realm in Chemical Sciences” virtually on 24th & 25th January 2022 at 10:30 am through YouTube Live streaming.

Day-I

Session - I

Date : 24.01.2022
Topic : Nanostructured materials for Energy Conversion
Resource Person : Dr. P. Gnanaprakasam, Assistant Professor, Department of Electrochemistry, Saveetha School of Engineering,
Saveetha Institute of Medical & Technical Sciences, Chennai.

The International Conference began with Dr. P. Dhivya inviting all the participants followed by Mrs. S. Valli invoking God's blessings through her prayer song. The Chief speaker of the first session of the first day, Dr. P. Gnanaprakasam was invited and introduced by Ms. J. Antonette Luciana Sherryn. After the formal introduction, the session was handed over to the Speaker.

Dr. P. Gnanaprakasam commenced the session with a detailed explanation about Nanotechnology beginning with the history and the road that paved the path for the huge research that is going on around Nanotechnology right now. He then explained about the various classifications of Nanomaterials starting from Carbon based materials, Metal based materials, dendrimers and composites. Following the classification, he explained about how the nanomaterials can be synthesized via two major techniques which are widely used – Bottom-up approach and Top-down approach. Furthermore, he taught the different techniques used for the characterizations of the synthesized materials. The characterization techniques include optical characterizations, structural characterizations, electrical and magnetic characterization techniques. Henceforth, the nanomaterials synthesized via top-down or bottom-up approach, can be characterized and confirmed with the help of certain characterization techniques and can be used in numerous applications such as solar cells, fuel cells and Electrocatalysis for water splitting – which is basically the energy conversion processes.

Besides explaining about the nanostructured materials for energy conversion, he also enlightened the students with the various job opportunities available abroad. He also provided the students with the list of the institutions with a good stipend for the Post Doctoral Fellowship. Thus the session was very useful to the students especially for the final year students. The session was concluded by a formal Vote of Thanks with Dr. P. Dhivya, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry.

Day-I
Session -II

Date : 24.01.2022
Topic : Nanostructured materials for electrochemical sensors applications
Resource Person : Dr. Periyasamy Sundaresan, Post-Doctoral Fellow,
Department of Biomedical Engineering, Chungnam National University,
Daehak-ro yuseong-gu, Daejeon, South Korea.

The second session of the first day of International Conference began with Dr. P. Dhivya inviting all the participants followed by Ms. J. Antonette Luciana Sherryn, AP/Chemistry, introducing the chief speaker Dr. Periyasamy Sundaresan and the session was handed over to him.

Dr. Periyasamy Sundaresan commenced the session with a detailed explanation about the classification of the nanostructured materials such as zero dimensional, one dimensional, two dimensional and three dimensional structures. He then briefed about the metal tungstates and their different types of the structures of the tungstates such as perovskite, scheelite and wolframite which are the prominent materials used in the research field at present. Rare earth metal tungstate materials with peculiar and extraordinary characteristics are prominently used in applications such as supercapacitors, scintillators, dye-sensitized solar cells, laser, photocatalysis, electrocatalytic sensors, photoluminescence etc.

On the outset, Dr. Sundaresan gave a detailed explanation of the following

- Perovskite materials that are attracting substantial attention due to its excellent electrical conductivity, transport properties, high thermal and chemical stability.

- About the properties of gadolinium tungstate such as low toxicity and excellent ferroelectricity.
- The advantages of co-precipitation method.

The first day of the Two-day International Conference were live streamed in YouTube and about 160 participants which includes II UG, III UG & II PG students from our Institution and from various Institutions.

Day-II

Session - I

Date : 25.01.2022

Topic : A simple perspective of Sugar Chemistry

Resource Person : Dr. T. Mohan Das

Professor & Head, Department of Chemistry,
Central University of Tamil Nadu, Thiruvarur.

The contents of the lecture include Sugars – definition, classification, characteristic properties, Glycosciences, subareas of glycosciences, glycoconjugates , COVID-19 molecule, composition, structure, cleavage of glycosidic bond etc., and his research group contributions to glycosciences. He explained the Chemistry of sugar molecules, Sugars with Sweet (Sucrose) and bitter (Raffinose) in nature , Relative sweetness of sugars, Structures of naturally occurring sweet glycosides, Sweetness of Enantiomeric α -amino acids relative to sucrose and Sweetness of deoxyhalo derivatives of sucrose . He also clarified the proposed binding of sucralose with the sweet-taste receptor and proposed binding of 6,6'-dichloro-6,6'-dideoxysucrose with the sweet-taste receptor. The detailed explanation about the role of sugars in biological systems, Glycoprotein – glycosidic bond and basic structure of Glycoprotein are discussed. He gave clear idea about the Anatomy of COVID-19 virus, Different parts of Coronavirus (COVID-19), Different proteins present in Coronavirus (COVID-19) and its functions, Interaction of Glycoprotein of Coronavirus (COVID-19) with receptor (ACE2) and also explained how soap works on corona virus through hydrophilic and hydrophobic manner and how soap washes dirt from the skin, action of soap on the surface of COVID-19 surface . The Challenges associated with COVID-19 discussed with the following Preventive measures such as , Destroying the surface (Cell membrane), Hydrolysis of the glycoproteins and Destroying the generic components. He elucidated the applications of the supramolecular gel , Molecular electrostatic potential maps and molecular structure of N-glycosylamines and molecular modelling of sugar based gelator for various possible interactions. A photoresponsive organogelator for the phase-selective gelation of aromatic solvents from water discussed through phase separated mixtures of organic solvents in presence of water before the addition of the gelator and selective gelation of the organic solvents after the addition of the gelator. He further added his research contributions with the use of glycosylated single-walled carbon nanotubes as a coolant additive, Self-assembly of sugar based glyco-lipids: Gelation studies of partially protected D-glucose, Design and synthesis of sugar-triazole low molecular weight gels as mercury ion sensor, Design, synthesis and metal sensing studies of ether-linked bis-triazole derivatives, Design, synthesis and gelation studies of 4,6-O-butyldiene- α,β -unsaturated- β -C-glycosidic ketones: application to plant tissue culture and Synthesis of a,b-unsaturated-b-C-glycosidic ketones and Plant tissue culture studies using synthesized compound.

Report

The Department of Chemistry organized a motivational programme on 28th February at 11:00am on the topic 'Challenges and Opportunities for Learning in the Pandemic' in commemoration with National Science day. The resource person invited was Dr.T.Selvaraju, Associate Professor, Department of Chemistry, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore. The motivational programme was lead by Lenora Jenith. J , II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was started with prayer song by Keziah Gracelin.J, Jerolena.R.J and Jayaprincy. A of II B.Sc. Chemistry. The Honourable Chief Guest and the gathering was greeted by Keziah Gracelin.J, II B.Sc. Chemistry. The session was handed over to the chief guest, Dr.T.Selvaraju.

Dr.T.Selvaraju commenced his presentation by a quote by Bharathiar. Then he explained how we are learning during the time of pandemic. The mode of learning has changed. We have moved from offline to online classes, fully filled with technology. Through hearing, seeing visuals, reading and learning we will be able to gain only 75% percentage of knowledge. Only then we teach others, we will be able to gain 90% of the knowledge. If an invention has to come into existence, it takes minimum of a year to spread all over the world. But at present it just takes a month time to spread all over the world. We can even order in online and import from any part of the world and it will reach our door step in a weeks' time. Hence this pandemic has made us learn all these technologies apart from our studies. Sir refreshed us with some basic ideas in chemistry. It gave us a clear and lively idea of how to learn safely and make the time useful during the pandemic. The doubts of the students were clarified and the feedbacks were given after the presentation. The session came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Barbaral Vinitha. S of II B.Sc. Chemistry. Totally 116 students participated and benefitted by this Programme.

We, the students of Department of Chemistry, Nirmala College for Women had participated in the seminar on the topic challenges for learning in Pandemic by Dr. T. Selvaraju, Asso. prof. Dept of Chemistry, Bharathiar University. Sir has engaged us with his ideas and informations regarding online teaching and courses during Pandemic. Sir has given many ideas involving the opportunities available in the online platforms. He had elaborated the uses and applications of online courses to gain extra knowledge and informations of specific topics related to our subject. The session was very much useful and encourage us in taking various online certificate courses. Sir has enlightened us with his experiences on online platform during Pandemic. We are so thankful for our department for organizing this useful session.

Report:

The Department of Chemistry organized a Guest Lecture on the topic "Electrochemical Energy Storage Devices in Current Applications" on 07.04.2022 (28.03.2022). Ms. M. Priyadharshini, Assistant Professor, Department of Science and Humanities, Chemistry, Karpagam Academy of Higher Education, was the invited speaker. The session began with a prayer song by Ms. Epsiba of I MSc Chemistry followed by Ms. Deepthi of I M.Sc Chemistry to introduce the Spokesperson. Electrical energy storage (EES) systems constitute an essential element in the development of sustainable energy technologies. Electrical energy generated from renewable resources such as solar radiation or wind provides great potential to meet our energy needs in a sustainable manner. However, these renewable energy technologies generate electricity intermittently and thus require efficient and reliable electrical energy storage methods. For commercial and residential end-use, electricity must be reliably available at any time of the day. In fact, second-to-second fluctuations can cause major disruptions with costs estimated to be in the tens of billions of dollars annually. Improvements in ESS performance, reliability, and efficiency are needed in the development of modern portable electronic devices such as laptops and smart phones.

She then explained about batteries and the evolution of batteries from centuries to now being used as lithium-ion batteries. One important classification for batteries is by their life cycle. "Primary" batteries can produce current as soon as assembled, but once the active elements are consumed, they cannot be electrically recharged. The introduction of nickel and lithium-based batteries in the latter half of the 20th century made the development of innumerable portable electronic devices feasible, from powerful flashlights to mobile phones. Very large stationary batteries find some applications in grid energy storage, helping to stabilize electric power distribution networks. Additionally, the electrochemical cells and its applications in research field. About 60 students from I, II & III BSc Chemistry participated in the guest lecture.

Topic: "Importance of Multidisciplinary Research on Post Covid Era"

No. of Participants: 85

Report:

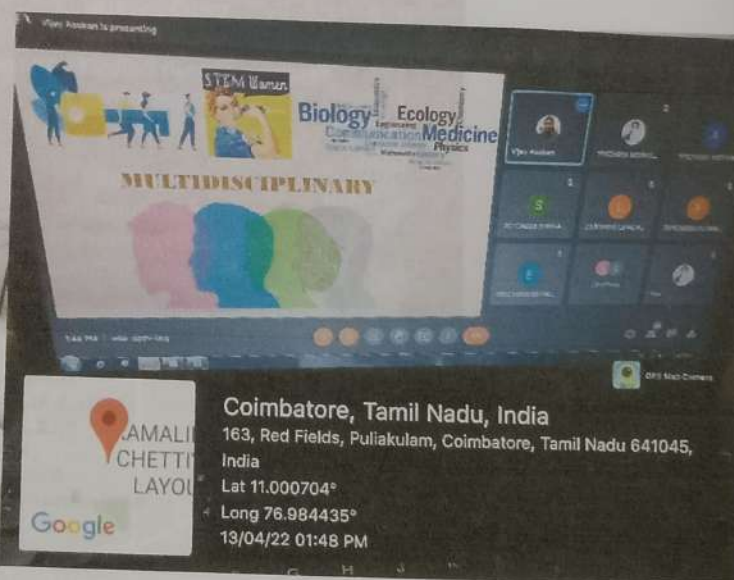

The lecture began with the Prayer Song, followed by welcome address. The session was taken over by the Chief Guest.

Dr. Vijayshankar Asokan, Research Fellow, School of Science & Engineering, Limerick University, Ireland spoke on "Importance of Multidisciplinary Research on Post Covid Era" through Google Meet. He started his talk by recalling that during the last few months of the COVID-19 pandemic, while political leaders have locked the borders of their countries, scientists witnessed tearing down research arena of their own, and creating a global collaboration unlike any in history. He pointed out that never before, have so many experts in so many countries focused simultaneously on a single topic, COVID-19, and with such urgency and resolve. Nearly all other research has ground to a halt.

He focused on the benefit of multidisciplinary research post COVID-19 as it provides different approaches and perspectives on problems. It provides fresh view point, cross-fertilization, exchanges of methodology. Multidisciplinary research is an investigation or investigation of a problem to test the hypothesis combining many approaches, fields, or academic methods. Moreover, it can be defined as a knowledge search by an objective and systematic method for an original contribution to the existing stock of knowledge involving a combination of several disciplines and methods. Multidisciplinary studies address current and real problems, with a prioritized focus on solving them.

Title : Integration of Plant Biotechnology in conservation programs

Session : FN

No: of Participants : 85

The resource person has given a wonderful talk on the title “Integration of Plant Biotechnology in conservation programs”. He explained about the loss of plant genetic resources, the need of necessary development in new ex situ conservation methods. He also highlighted the importance of advancements in biotechnology in the fields for plant germplasm conservation and evaluation. Biotechnological tools like in vitro culture, cryopreservation, and molecular markers offer a valuable alternative to plain diversity studies, management of genetic resources and ultimately conservation. This webinar summarizes the recent advances in plant conservation biotechnology with special emphasis on the preservation efforts of the Paphiopedilum druryi, Piper barbei, Garcenia gummi- gutta, Trichopus zylanicus etc. Strategies, as well as the plant species used for establishment and maintenance of germplasm collections were also presented.

Report on Hands on training on the topic In silico Molecular Docking

DATE: 4/10/2021 and 5/10/2021

No. of participants: 34

A two-day hands-on training on the topic “In silico molecular docking” was conducted on 4/10/2021 and 5/10/2021. The resource person was Dr. S. Sivashankari, Assistant Professor & Head Department of Bioinformatics Nirmala College for Women. The session was held from 11 am to 12:30 pm on the two days. Molecular docking is the interaction of two molecules. The small molecules which is going to be used as drug is called ligand and the larger protein or enzyme which it acts on is considered the drug target. The first day's session was based on

- Retrieval of ligand which can be used as drug from pub chem
- Getting the 2D structure of the molecule in smiles representation
- Drug likeliness prediction using MOLSOFT
- Drug likeliness is predicted with Lipinski's rule of 5

The second day's session was based on:

- Generation of 3D structure of the ligand molecule by Corina
- Finding drug target (protein or enzyme) from PDB
- Downloading the 3D structure of the receptor
- Docking using HEX 8.0.0

Each of the process was explained in detail by Dr. Sivashankari. Mam demonstrated each step with examples. Bharangin compound was given as an example for ligand and Cyclin dependent kinase was given for the receptor drug target. These were demonstrated on live by using a projector. A pair of students were given a system to work on and practically do the docking. This was a very useful training session which took us into the computational drug designing world.

The resource person gave a wonderful talk on how to publish research articles in SCI journals. The purpose of this FDP is to highlight the salient, and sometimes invisible, features of the standard format for performing research and to provide guidelines to help novice writers avoid some of the more frequent problems they encounter while publication. First, we describe some general considerations about planning and writing for publication. Then, after discussing each of the five components of the research report (abstract, introduction, method, results, and discussion), we address questions about the writing and publishing process frequently posed by our students and Faculties as they begin to conduct and disseminate research independently. Finally, students and staff were highly benefited and gained knowledge on publishing research articles in SCI journals.

No. of Participants : 100

The resource person has given an amazing talk on the title “RNAi for Plant Biotechnology”. She has covered various aspects of molecular markers and Functional genomics of tropical monocotyledonous plants including banana, oil palm and rice. Her explanations on the topic from basic level to advanced level have enriched the minds of students. She focused on the RNAi pathway, miRNA genes and use of exogenously applied RNA in biological studies and biotechnological applications. She also highlighted the application of recombinant DNA technology in current research areas and emphasized the Epigenetic changes and their relationship to somaclonal variation: a need to monitor the micropropagation of plantation crops. REPORT ON HANDS TRAINING PROGRAMME

DNA ISOLATION AND GEL ELECTROPHORESIS

TOPIC: Hands on Training on DNA Isolation and Gel Electrophoresis

DATE: 23.11.2021

NO. OF STUDENTS. 60

The Department of Botany under DBT star scheme organized a one-day hands on Training on DNA Isolation and Gel Electrophoresis for about 65 students on November 23rd, 2021. Dr. S. Vijay Kumar, Research Coordinator, VJ Biotech, Coimbatore inaugurated and discussed the importance of DNA Isolation and Gel Electrophoresis. The main purpose of the program is to observe the DNA extraction and identification of nucleic acid fragments with fractionation by gel electrophoresis method with agarose gel. He explained about determining the purity and quantity of obtained DNA by the help of gel electrophoresis and UV spectroscopic measurements. Then we are able to analyse some information about DNA and its structure. He also explained about Electrophoresis which is a common lab technique used to identify, quantify, and purify nucleic acid fragments. Students loaded the samples into wells of an agarose or acrylamide gel and subjected them to an electric field. He showed that the negatively charged nucleic acids move toward the positive electrode. Shorter DNA fragments will travel more rapidly, whereas the longest fragments will remain closest to the origin of the gel, resulting in separation based on size. The students thoroughly understood about the concept of DNA Extraction and Gel Electrophoresis in both theoretical and practical ways.

Title: KNOW YOUR RIGHTS: "WOMEN CENTRIC LAWS"

Date: 25.11.2021

Chief Guest: Mr. P. Natarajan, Judge Rtd., Chief Judicial Magistrate

Total No. of Beneficiaries: 90

The faculty members of Botany, UG and PG and Research scholars of botany and students from other colleges were participated in the awareness programme on Know your rights: Women Centric Laws. Sir explained clearly about women centric laws are made to benefit women who are considered as an oppressed section of the society. But, from the former time, women were exposed to atrocities committed by men. They were considered as a weak and oppressed section of the society so various laws were made from time to time to safeguard them. Sir enlightened the Women Centric laws are used by women as a weapon to protect themselves. The introduction of various laws had a basic objective to stop violence against women and bring them equal to men by maintaining equality and stop mental torture they face.

Department of Botany organized the Enforcement of Laboratory safety training programme for Lab assistants for all the science departments in our college. The chief guest explained very well about the laboratory Safety techniques in various aspect of science. Without it, experimentation could result in very serious injury, if not death, of course. To reduce the risks involved with experimentation, there are certain procedures that we should all follow as individuals and as a member of a group. Safety is important in science labs to ensure students and teachers stay out of harm's way. Science laboratories have numerous equipments that pose potential hazards if used improperly. Lab assistants are the first persons who know the basic knowledge and training about the laboratory safety methods.

The resource person has given a wonderful talk on the title "PLANT SCIENCES IN THE PRESENT SCENARIO". Sir has enlightened the participants on Oxidative stress and natural antioxidants, free radicals are molecules containing one or more unpaired electrons in atomic or molecular orbitals. He defined Oxidative stress as an imbalance between oxidants and antioxidants in favor of the oxidants, leading to a disruption of redox signaling and control and/or molecular damage. He explained that Natural Antioxidants (low concentrations) are compounds that help to inhibit the many oxidation reactions caused by free radicals thereby preventing or delaying damage to the cells and tissues (delays or reduces oxidation of the substrate). Consumption of green Tea, Black Tea and Oolong Tea can provide Catechins, Theaflavins, Thearubigins like bioactive compounds and these are helpful in treating Liver and Prostate Cancer.

Title : In-Vitro and In-Silico Studies on Bioactive Compounds of Pteridophytes

No. of Participants : 70

The Department of Botany organized a Two Days International Seminar on Plant Sciences in The Present Scenario. The seminar focused on In-Vitro and In-Silico Studies on Bioactive Compounds of Pteridophytes. She highlighted the Fossil pteridophyte plant species and its propagation through plant tissue culture techniques. She shared his research work and talked about how to collect the spores from the basal portion of leaf for the propagation through tissue culture. Spore derived plantlets were subject to extraction process for isolation and characterization of active constituents by using various methods like HPLC, GC-MS, UPLC, etc., Students has also gained knowledge about In-Silico Studies on Bioactive Compounds of Pteridophytes. She inspires the students towards unexplored pteridophytic plant species and conserve them for our future.

REPORT ON TAXONOMY – THEN AND NOW

Date : 19.04.2022
Time : 3.00pm to 4.00pm
Speaker : Mr. A. Joseph Clement
Retd., Professor and Head (Former)
Department of Botany
Government Arts College, Coimbatore
Title : Taxonomy – Then and Now!
No: of Participants : 70

The Department of Botany organized a Guest lecture on the topic Taxonomy - Then and Now! The speaker has emphasized that as science knowledge about living things has increased, it has been necessary for the two kingdoms classification system (plants and animals) proposed by Linnaeus, to be continuously changed to incorporate this new knowledge. He also described that the main difference between taxonomy and systematics is that taxonomy is involved in the classification and naming of organisms whereas systematics is involved in the determination of evolutionary relationships of organisms. This means systematics ascertain the sharing of the common ancestry by different organisms. He has opened the minds of the audience by his valuable talk for conserving our mother Earth.

On Thursday the 29th July 2021, a one day International Seminar on “Green Technology: Building a Sustainable Future” was organized by Department of Zoology, Nirmala College for Women (Autonomous), Coimbatore under the Department of Biotechnology Star College Scheme for a wide range of participants from the host institution as well as from different Institutions and Universities from various parts of India. The Symposium started at 09.30 am in the Google meet Platform. The program started with prayer song followed by Felicitation by Rev. Dr. Sr. Helen, Principal, Nirmala College for Women (Autonomous), Coimbatore. Introduction of the Speaker of the session was given by Dr. Pawlin Vasanthi Joseph, Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Zoology

Welcome address for the speaker of session Dr. Bharath Govindan was rendered. The talk was on the topic “Recent Trends in Atmospheric and Environmental Hazard Waste into Energy Production”. Sir gave an excellent talk and shared his valuable thoughts on the need to adopt the Green Technology for a sustainable development. Sir in his explanation covered the different methods employed for conversion of Agricultural Waste such as fermentation for biofuel production. Sir, also briefed on the process of production of py-oil from date seeds. From the detailed lecture audience got knowledge, about various major methods that can be used to convert plastic and tyre waste to marketable energy resource. Sir’s, highlighted mentions on the procedures for conversion of CO₂ to fuel was also interesting. The session closed at 10.45 am with vote of thanks to the speaker.

The next session of the symposium started at 11.00 am by the welcome address to Dr. Balamurugan Jayaraman. The session was on the topic “Recent Advances in Hydrogen Production from Renewable Bioresources”. Sir explained about recent advances in hydrogen production from renewable bioresources and also gave brief introduction of various energy options like carbon based fuel source and nuclear fuel. He explained the need for H₂ energy and added that the rising demand of energy has led to climate deterioration and waste generation.

Sir's research talk highlighted the major research progress on bio carbon production from renewable bioresources such as organic waste, lignocelulosic biomass, algal biomass and industrial waste water. He also explained about the different process that helps in the liberation of H_2 . He gave an illustration of bio hydrogen production with the help of Green alga and also briefed on the benefits of using biological processes to produce Hydrogen. The session was winded up at 12.15 pm with vote of thanks to sir.

Next session after the lunch break started at 01.15 pm with the welcome address for the speaker of the session Dr. Dennyson Savariraj. Sir spoke on the topic "Role of Microorganisms used in Wastewater Treatment". Sir gave an explanation on different sources and modes of water pollution. He gave a note of different micro organisms that are used in waste water treatment such as bacteria, metazoa etc. Sir highlighted on the importance of bioremediation and also the various factors that affect bioremediation like temperature, pH and availability of nutrients. He also gave illustration of the aerobic and anaerobic process that helps in waste water treatment. So sir emphasized that all of us should pledge not to pollute the environment by any means as prevention is better than cure. The session was winded up at 03.00 pm with vote of thanks to sir.

The National seminar on “Aquaculture production: Advances and constraints” began with the welcome address by Dr. Pawlin Vasanthi Joseph, Head of the Post graduate and research department of Zoology, Nirmala college for women, Coimbatore. The felicitation address was given by the Principal, Dr. Sr. Helen, Principal of the college, The inaugural address was rendered by Dr. Saroj Kumar Swain, Director, Central Institute of Freshwater Aquaculture, Bhubaneswar, Orissa. He mentioned the contributions of CIFA, ICAR and private agencies in the development of advanced technology in aquaculture like RAS, Biofloc and Aquaponics. CIBA has introduced a number of farmer friendly technologies and the Government has allocated finance in crores for increased production of fishes.

Felicitation by Rev. Dr. Sr. Helen, Principal

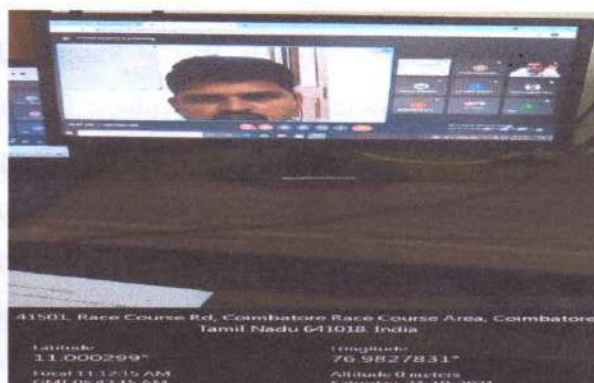

Inaugural Address by Dr. Saroj Swain

Dr Ajith Kumar TT, Principal scientist, PMFGR Centre, National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, CMFRI Campus, Kochi, Kerala gave an overview of aquaculture production and constraints. Three major carp species in India include Catla, Rohu and Mrigal. Exotic carps include silver, grass and common carps. CIFA had developed the Jayanthi Rohu. Minor carps like Labeo calbasu are provided with hormone injections during breeding. A ready supply of seedlings and fries are provided to the farmers. Culture of Clarias batrachus, Giant fresh water prawn, lobsters through cage technology, captive propagation of mud crabs. CIBA has introduced a technology for sea bass and Perna viridis. Ornamental fishes include 99% exotic species offering a livelihood for people. Technology has been developed for clown fishes, crabs and sea anemones. The involvement of Koluthurai, Chennai and Lakshwadeep. The Pradhan Mantri Matsya Sampada Yojana provides a lot of grants for promotion of aquaculture. Nationalised Banks, PMSSY and NABARD provide financial assistance for R &D and entrepreneurship.

Dr. TT. Ajith Kumar explains on "Overview of Aquaculture production:Advances and Constraints"

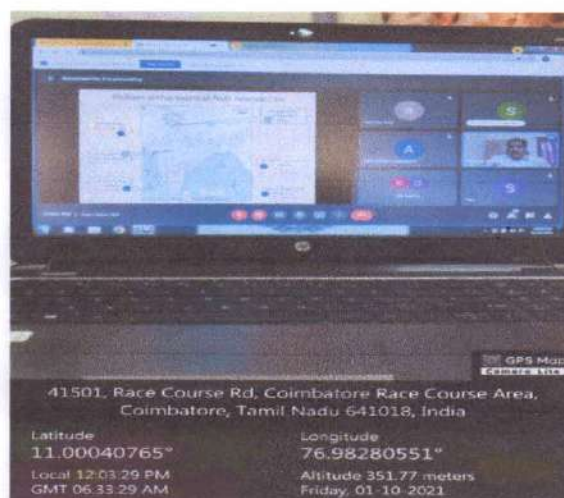

Dr. S. Prakash explains on "Marine Ornamentals: Trade Culture and Conservation"

Technical session III was chaired by Dr. Charan R, Scientist, PMFGR Centre, National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, CMFRI Campus, Kochi, Kerala. The speaker made a description on Inland and marine aquaculture. The importance of exotic fin fishes in the ornamental fish industry. Ornamental fishes are subjected to TAAD diseases, ecological and genetical problems and environmental impacts. He stressed on captive breeding technology, regional specific aquaculture for widening the food basket and advantages of captive breeding of fishes. He also explained Live Germplasm resource Centres and on-farm evaluation of Genetic resources. Stock enhancement through ranching, Community based culture systems, Inbreeding depression and sperm banking was also emphasized.

Technical session IV was headed by Dr. Arun Sudhagar, Scientist, ICAR - National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, Kochi, Kerala who spoke on the present status of emerging diseases in the Indian aquaculture. A vivid description was made on the world capture fisheries and aquaculture production. This led to intensification of new technologies and diversification of species. The economic loss due to diseases in fishes if Rs. 4.5 lakhs. A clear elucidation was made on Epizootic ulcerative syndrome, carp edema virus, Viral encephalopathy and retinopathy, Tilapia lake virus, Sea bream irido virus, spleen and kidney necrosis virus, cyprinid herpes virus and white spot diseases. Tools used in disease diagnosis, anti microbial resistance, research gaps and control strategies were well explained.

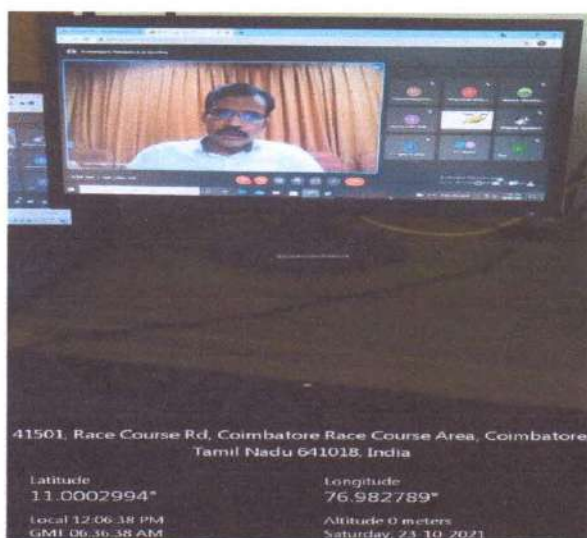

Dr. Arun Sudhagar explains on "Present status of emerging diseases in Indian aquaculture"

Dr. K. Ramamoorthy explains in "Ornamental fish sector - An overview"

The technical session I was chaired by Dr S. Prakash, Scientist and Fulbright-Nehru Fellow, Centre for Climate Change Studies, Sathyabama Institute of Science and Technology, Rajiv Gandhi Salai, Chennai. Trade channel of wild and cultured fishes was explained well. Ecofriendly collection of fishes by using nets. Countries exporting fishes include Indonesia, Phillipines and Sri Lanka. Brood stock management involves selection, infrastructure development. A recirculation system for brood stocks was emphasized. Culture of live prey for artemia, rotifers, copepods, microalgae and diatoms. SWOT analysis for cultured fishes is carried out. Priorities for government policies and scientific research have to be implemented. Participatory management for sustainable utilization was stressed.

Technical session II was chaired by Dr. Kumaraguru Vasagam, P. K., Scientist, ICAR - Central Institute of Brackishwater Aquaculture, Chennai. Significance of feed in aquaculture was emphasized. The nutrient requirement for fries, fingerlings and broodstock was explained and the need for 40% protein in the diet was stressed. Ingredients of the feed could include animal waste like poultry and fish, soyabean, oil cakes and rice bran. The primary components for success in aquaculture include Genetic potential of the stock, nutrition and Husbandry. Feed contributes about 40 to 60% of the operating cost. Feed forms in the nature of pellets, flakes, fine powder, liquid and paste was described. Avenues of fish nutrition encompass feeding biology, Ingredient knowledge, feed formulation and feed manufacturing and feed management.

Dr. Kumaraguru Vasagam explains on "An overview of Aquafeed formulation and processing

Dr. Charan R explains on "Augmenting Conservation with aquaculture"

Technical session V was headed by Dr. K. Ramamoorthy, Associate Professor, CAS in Marine Biology, Faculty of Marine Sciences, Parangipettai who spoke on Ornamental Fish Culture Sector – An Overview. Sir briefed on the exotic fishes, freshwater fishes and commercially important indigenous fishes. He also gave picturesque representation of exotic egg layers and exotic livebearers. Sir gave a population analysis report of Gulf of Mannar, Gulf of Katch, Lakshadweep Islands and Andaman group of islands. He explained about the health benefits of ornamental fish culture. Sir also gave ideas for aquarium budget and maintenance. He gave a theoretical explanation of livebearers reproduction and egg layers reproduction. He also gave points to remember in research advancement for students.

Impact: The seminar had a great impact on the students as one of the areas of specialization in research is aquaculture. The seminar widened their knowledge on ornamental fish culture, fish diseases, ornamental fish trade, advance technologies in practice and the contributions of the Government towards the development of aquaculture and the financial assistance provided by Nationalised Banks and NABARD.

DAY -1 (27.07.2021)

The formal welcoming address started off the programme on July 27, 2021. Dr. Meenakshi P, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography, gave a warm welcome to the audience. The meeting was then taken over by Dr. B. Sukumar.

On the first day, he started by briefing about GIS, its aspects and the steps involved and later taught about how to download the QGIS software and then started with the first aspect, which is georeferencing.

DAY -2 (28.07.2021)

Second day, he continued with the previous day's Georeferencing and taught how to do Georeferencing so that the output map would contain the coordinates. . He also showed the students how to Georeference a map by using maps canvas to get the coordinates.

DAY -3 (29.07.2021)

The third day he taught how to change the transparency of an over layered map. Then taught how to digitize point and line features, change the properties of the digitized features and also how to calculate the length of the line feature.

DAY -4 (30.07.2021)

On the fourth day we saw the methods to digitize a polygon feature, change its properties, and calculate its area.

DAY -5 (31.07.2021)

The final day of the training program was conducted by Mr. Sukumar taught how to digitize without over lapping and then moved onto thematic maps. The final topic covered by Sir was Creating Attribute information and how to obtain the final layout and change the different properties for the final output.

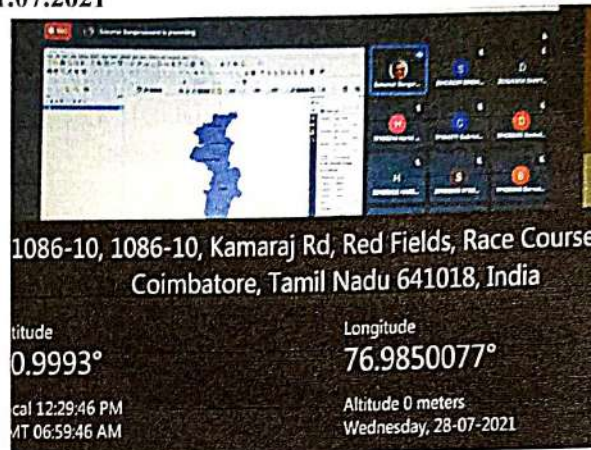

Students from 2nd and 3rd Geography thanked him at the end of the training programme. Helan Jenifer S, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography, rendered the official vote of thanks.

Report of DBT sponsored Lecture Workshop

DATE : 20.09.2021
TOPIC : Introduction to Surveying
GUEST SPEAKER : Nagarathinam Anand S ,
Former Assistant Professor,
Jigjiga University, Ethiopia.
NO OF BENEFICIARIES : 58 (II & III B.Sc Students)

Gabiele Rubina Benno (III B.Sc Geography) addressed the Guest Speaker and the gathering. The event was then handed on to the guest speaker. She has imparted a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of surveying. Surveying is the art and science of determining the relative positions of points above, on, or beneath the earth's surface and locating the points in the field. She covered the topics such as Principles of Surveying, object of surveying, uses of surveying, other types of surveying, methods of measuring distance such as

- Pacing,
- Passometer.
- Pedometer.
- Odometer.
- Speedometer.
- Measuring Wheel.

She also covered the many instruments utilised in the process and their types, as well as the various sorts of chains, tapes, and processes, as well as the faults and remedial methods involved.

She elaborately explained about the different types of Surveying. They are Primary Classification and Secondary Classification. Primary Classification again classified into two: they are Plane surveying and Geodetic surveying. Secondary Survey can be classified on different bases:

1. Based on instrument:

Chain Survey
Compass survey
Plane Table survey
Theodolite survey
Tacheometric Survey
Photographic survey

2. Based on methods:

Triangulation Survey
Trilateration survey
Traverse Survey

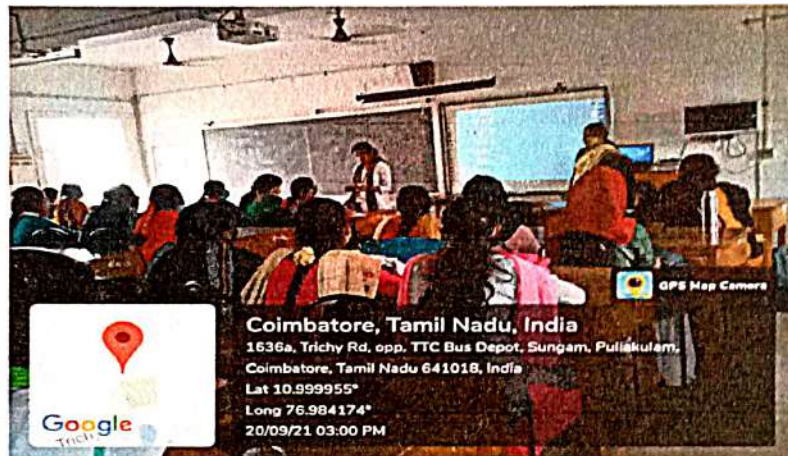

Students learned the fundamentals of surveying and the many types of surveys, as well as the various types of instruments and their applications.

The students of the third and second year of B.Sc., attended the lecture workshop.

Report of DBT sponsored Lecture Workshop

DATE : 21.09.2021
TOPIC : Recent trends in Surveying
GUEST SPEAKER : Dr. Sanjeev Prasad S
Assistant Professor,
Department of Geography,
University of Madras, Chennai.
NO OF BENEFICIARIES : 60 (II & III B.Sc Students)

The topics covered on 21.09.2021 include an introduction to geography as a subject, its various aspects, and the fields under them. An insight into the evolution of technology in geography was brought in. An introduction to the survey, its types, and the instruments used were also taught, along with the different systems of GPS.

Today, however, with the unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV), photogrammetry using UAV aerial images to create point clouds that can be used for mapping and volumetric calculations has become wide-spread. Further to point clouds, now with terrestrial laser scanners, 2 million points per second are collected with millimetre accuracy. This was unthinkable 20 years ago and is revolutionising reality capture.

In those days, the GPS satellites were only available for a short period of time, which often happened in the middle of the night. Since then, the constellation of satellites has significantly increased over the years, and the surveying profession has embraced the technology enabling surveyors to increase productivity by doing 'more with less'.

He also taught about the utilization of drones in surveying, the different types, their capacity, advantages, disadvantages, and applications. Finally the Session was end by the interactions with the students.

The speaker gave a through explanation of the basic and working principles of GPS. The students of the third and second year of B.Sc, attended the lecture workshop.

The morning session on September 22, 2021, focused on a practical demonstration of using a drone in the field. The last few years have seen significant digitisation of surveying equipment, workflows and outputs. The use of remote-control drones and unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs) is becoming more common among the surveying and mapping professions. The technology has multiple potential applications within numerous surveying-related sectors, which range from geospatial surveying and mapping to scanning, building surveys, environmental monitoring and agriculture.

Some advantages to consider:

- Cover large surface areas in a short amount of time
- Cross difficult terrain
- Make inaccessible areas accessible.
- Combine land surveys, photogrammetry, 3D mapping, topographic surveying and more

The students were divided into different groups. The afternoon session students were trained to do Drone Surveys inside college campus and they were taken to class room to get clear knowledge on drone survey. Students' doubts were cleared by the resource person at the end of the session.

The students were taken to the field on September 23, 2021 to learn about DGPS. A Differential Global Positioning System (DGPS) is an enhancement to the Global Positioning System (GPS) which provides improved location accuracy, in the range of operations of each system, from the 15-metre nominal GPS accuracy to about 1-3 cms in case of the best implementations. Students collected points using DGPS in the college campus according to their groups, just like the first day.

On the third day the students were taught about total Station Survey. A total Station Survey is an electronic/optical instrument used for surveying and building construction. It is an electronic transit theodolite integrated with electronic distance measurement to measure both vertical and horizontal angles and the slope distance from the instrument to a particular point, and an on-board computer to collect data and perform triangulation calculations.

He explained the basic concept theory of total Station Survey and the students were started field surveying.

REPORT

NAME OF THE EVENT : National seminar
TITLE : Digital Transformation in Education
DATE : 28/07/2021
NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES : 392

Session 1:

Resource Person: Mr. K. G. Ramakrishna Murthy,

Past international director,

The international association of Lions club.

Topic: Building A Holistic and Empathetic Educational Environment

The basic concept of holistic education is the philosophy of educating the whole person beyond core academics. It is gaining steam in learning circles as schools struggle to improve student outcomes. Many organizations are realizing that students need more than just a strong foundation in a core curriculum, they also need to be supported by a community and to develop a compassionate understanding of the world around them. The speaker emphasized that every individual should have holistic qualities, holistic principles and demonstrate the empathetic feelings because that is more important than education. He also insisted to put qualities, knowledge, thinking and abilities together to create a new society.

Session 2:

Resource Person: Prof. Christopher Deva Kumar,

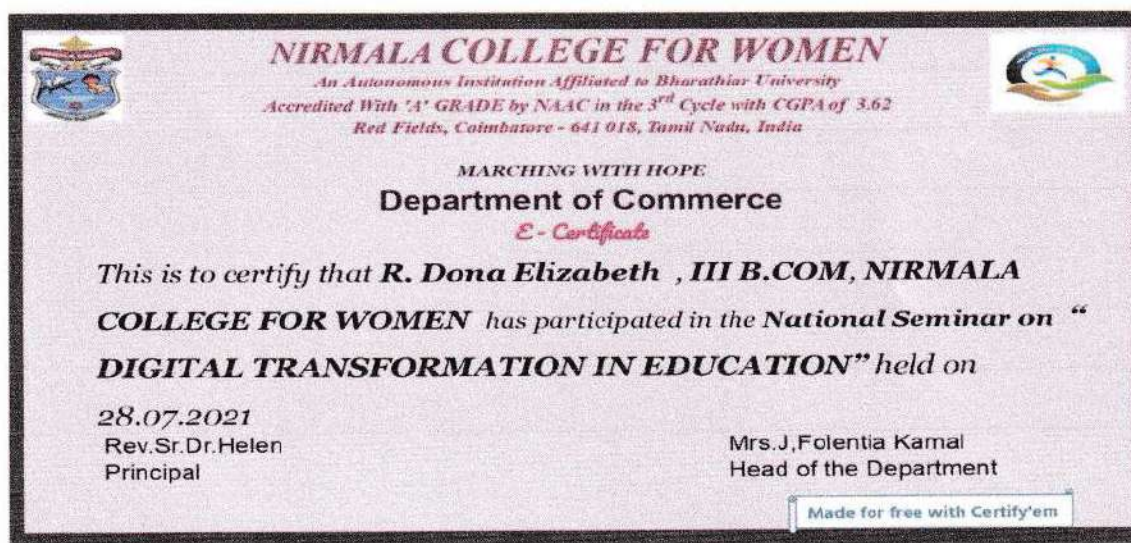

Associate professor,

PES university,

Bangalore.

Topic: Blending Physical and Digital Classrooms

Ever since the pandemic unfolded it has forced education into the digital realm more as an urgent necessity rather than an option. Education experts and teachers see the pandemic as a long-awaited disruption needed to revolutionize the sector and bring in much needed changes suitable for the modern world. They are of the opinion that the progress that the state has made in online education would not have been a reality for at least a decade if not for the pandemic, which they see as a blessing in disguise for the education sector.

The speaker presented his views on effective blending of physical classrooms methodology and digital Classroom's methodology. He highlighted the pros and cons of the theme. It was really knowledgeable and interesting session. The speaker explained concepts clearly and understandably. Students found this meeting really helpful.

Session 3:

Resource Person: Mrs. Fatima Magdalene Majella Philip,

Founding Principal, Babaji Vidhyashram Senior Secondary School, Chennai.

Topic: Challenges and Opportunities for Generation -Z

Generation Z also called iGeneration is the cohort of Post Millennials born between mid-1990's and mid-2000's. The speaker explained the features found in Generation Z.

- Individualistic with a strong sense of identity. High self- esteem and over- confidence in their own abilities and skills give them a feeling of entitlement.
- Appreciates genuineness and consistency between what is asserted and what is delivered.
- Born in the era of high -speed internet and advanced telecommunication.
- Seek a job that is unique and relatable, has a purpose, offers scope for creativity and individual expression and provides learning opportunities.

The chief guest instructed on how to overcome challenges, for challenges are many and insisted to create opportunities from those challenges. The presentation materials were well-organized and easy to follow. It was an eye- opening session for the students.

REPORT

NAME OF THE EVENT : Webinar
TITLE : CURRENT SCENARIO OF INSURANCE
RESOURCE PERSON : B. Karthikeyan
Senior Branch Manager,
Reliance Nippon Life Insurance, Coimbatore.
DATE : 10/12/2021
NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES : 58

The chief guest B. Karthikeyan, Senior Branch Manager, Reliance Nippon Life Insurance, Coimbatore. presented very clearly about insurance penetration and density in India, How the current distribution models are being challenged, challenges of insurance business in India, overview of insurance sector and Importance of insurance sector.

Insurance is an attractive option for investment. While most people recognize the risk hedging and tax saving potential of insurance, many are not aware of the advantages as an investment option as well. Insurance products yield more compared to regular investment options and this is besides the added incentives offered by insurers. An insurance product cannot compare with other insurance investment schemes for the simple reason that it offers financial protection from risks, something that is missing in non-insurance products.

Insurance is a unique investment avenue that delivers sound returns in addition to protection. Designed to safeguard against losses suffered due to any unforeseen events, insurance provides the investor with unique sense of security that no other form of investment provides

The poster is for a webinar titled "Current scenario of Insurance" organized by the Department of Commerce at Nirmala College for Women (Autonomous). Insurance also provides a safeguard in the case of accidents or a drop in income after retirement. An accident or disability can be devastating; an insurance policy can lend timely support to the family in such times. It also comes as a great help when people retire.

He concluded session stating the challenges of Insurance business in India. The transition of the insurance industry from a public monopoly to a competitive environment now presents very interesting challenges, both to the new players and to the customer. The benchmark of success of organization is not only determined by the rate of return but also by the quality of corporate governance. So good corporate governance practices should be followed by the companies as well as by the regulator. Though LIC has done commendable work, there is still a great deal of scope for bringing in innovative products and distribution channels to tap insurance market.

The session was highly useful through which students were able to understand about the current scenario of Insurance sector in India and also the career opportunities in insurance sector.

International Campus, Lesotho, South Africa.

DATE : 04/03/2022

NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES : 103

The speaker Dr. S. Ranganathan, Lead - Learning and Development, Kautilya and Sharma Associates Bangalore. Former Dean and Vice Chancellor, Botho University International Campus, Lesotho, South Africa started the session elaborating on types of banks:

- commercial banks
- central banks
- cooperative banks
- exchange banks
- development banks

Then he explained about Digital banking which is part of the broader context for the move to online banking, where banking services are delivered over the internet. The shift from traditional to digital banking has been gradual and remains ongoing, and is constituted by differing degrees of banking service digitization. Digital banking involves high levels of process automation and web-based services and may include APIs enabling cross-institutional service composition to deliver banking products and provide transactions. It provides the ability for users to access financial data through desktop, mobile and ATM services.

Major benefits of digital banking

- Business efficiency - Not only do digital platforms improve interaction with customers and deliver their needs more quickly, they also provide methods for making internal functions more efficient.
- Cost savings - One of the keys for banks to cut costs is automated applications that replace redundant manual labor.
- Increased accuracy - By simplifying the verification process, it's easier to implement IT solutions with business software, leading to more accurate accounting. Financial accuracy is crucial for banks to comply with government regulations.
- Improved competitiveness - Digital solutions help manage marketing lists, allowing banks to reach broader markets and build closer relationships with tech savvy consumers.
- Greater agility - The use of automation can speed up both external and internal processes, both of which can improve customer satisfaction.

Banks can benefit from extra layers of security to protect data.

He concluded the session explaining digital payment services in practice like NEFT (National Electronic Fund Transfer) or RTGS (Real Time Gross Settlement), importance of core banking solutions(CBS), automated user system(AUS) ,cryptocurrency and immediate payment system (IMRS).

Students found this meeting really useful and information packed session.

*Mrs. J. POLENTIA KAMAL, M.Com., M.Phil.,

BIOINFORMATICS-A REVOLUTIONARY WAY OF USING COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY

BIOINFORMATICS – WHAT? WHY? HOW?

- Bioinformatics has become a buzzword in today's world of Science.
- About one or two decades ago, people saw biology and computer science as two entirely different fields.
- One would learn about living beings and their functions whereas the other would learn about computers and underlying theories.

However, at present, there seems to be a mere separation between the two fields and this new field, bioinformatics, has emerged as a combination of both Computer Science and Biology.

REPORT

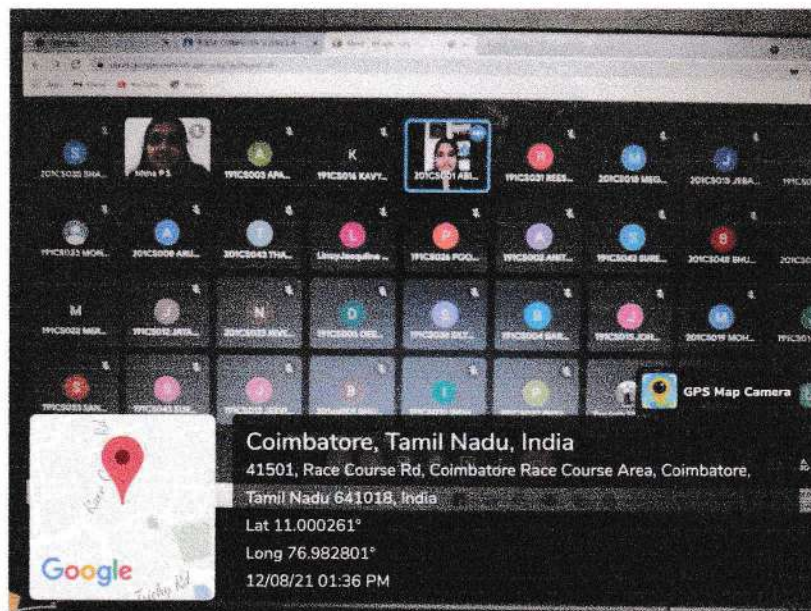

An online webinar on the topic “YOUTH AWARENESS ON CYBER ADDICTION” was conducted on 12.08.2021 by the Department of Computer Science. The theme of the session was CYBER ADDICTION. The resource person for the seminar was Mrs.P.S.Hitha M.Sc,B.Ed Former Counselor Global Public School Kochi.The event started with a prayer song followed by welcome gathering. Then the session was hand overed to the resource person.

She also adviced the parents of the teenagers as :The first step to treating a teenager’s addiction to the internet is admitting that a problem exists. Then, it’s important to talk to them about the issue. Make sure they know that you aren’t attacking them, but that you are concerned for their health. Agree on an action plan with your child and begin to create boundaries without cutting out the internet from their lives completely.

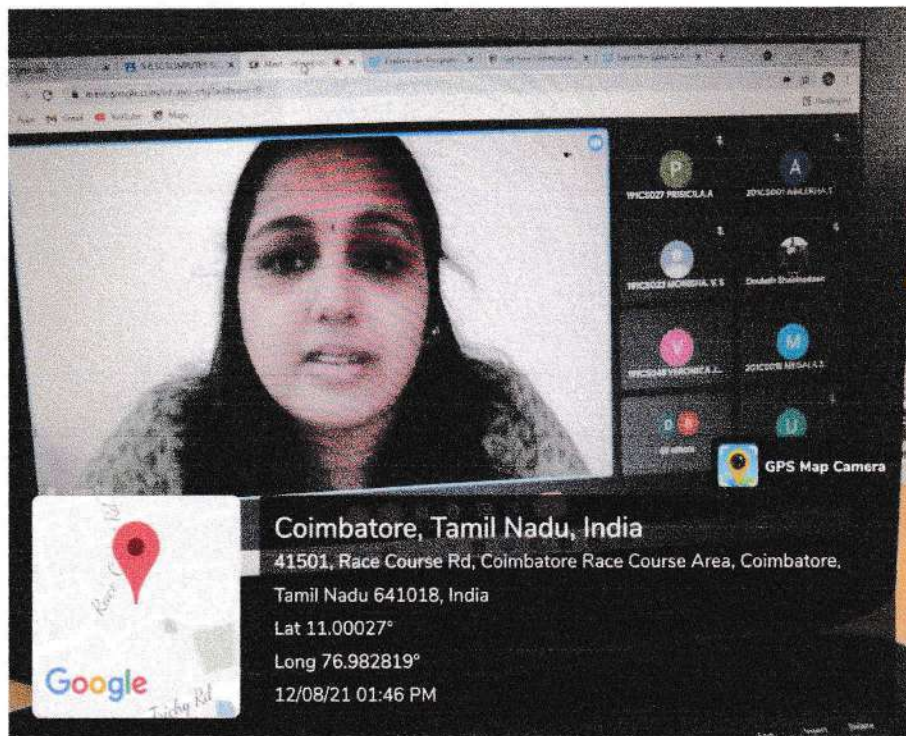

As final observation students were able to know the pros and cons of social media and how to protect themselves from unwanted media vulnerabilities.It was an informative and interactive session on the whole. The speaker cleared all the queries asked by the participants. The online event received a fabulous response. The session ended up with the vote of thanks.
