On 25th June 2021, the session started by invoking the blessings of God Almighty through a prayer song at 10:00 am. Rev. Sr. Dr. Helen, Principal, Nirmala College for women addressed and blessed the event. Dr. M. Raziya Parvin started the session by stating the difference between sex and gender. She explained us that sex is the natural that is the biological way of differentiating a male and female and gender is the socialised way of differentiating a male and female.

Madam explained the concept of gender. She added to that the concept of gender is based on norms, identity and stereotypes and explained about them. She stated that the difference between male and female must only be the biological difference. There should be no difference based on socialising factor. Mam emphasised about empowerment and told us about Women in politics. Dr. Raziya Pravin explained about gender inequality. She briefed us about the factors and causes of gender inequality. From gender inequality, she slowly led us to gender equality. Mam showed us the statistics of gender inequality and India's ranking.

Just like adding feather to the cap, mam premiered a video in YouTube which was very useful to us. The video was very informative. Mam concluded the session with a solution to gender inequality. At the age of twelve, gender equality must pop up so that the future of all girl children will be well. This session had been an eye-opener to all the beneficiaries. It gave us an ideology about gender equality. REPORT

2 days Skill Development Workshop on the Topic “Molecular Analysis using Software Tools” was organized under DBT Star College Scheme for Chemistry Students 30.07.21 & 31.07.21 under MoU with MC Tech, Coimbatore. Students skilled in retrieving small molecules and to visualize the molecules as Rasmol and Argus Lab Software. They also learnt to view the molecules in various format, change colour, identify the sequence of atoms in the molecules, calculate the number of atoms, bond length, torsion strength etc. The workshop was highly useful for the students in the field of drug designing.

REPORT:

The Department of Chemistry organized a Guest Lecture on 18th September 2021 at 3.00pm to 4.00pm on the topic "Basics of Computer and C language" through Google Meet platform. The resource person invited was Mrs. Vanjimalar Somasundaram, MCA, M.Phil., Full Stack Software Developer, Ceiyone Tech, Coimbatore.

Mrs Vanjimalar Somasundaram commenced her presentation by giving a brief introduction about computers. A computer is an electronic device that is able to take raw input data from a user, store it, process it and output information as per requirement. Nowadays, the Computer plays a vital role in every field. So the knowledge about the computer and computer languages has also become very significant.

She explained about the components and types of computers. Then she explained about Hardware and Software. Examples for Hardwares are laptop, camera, mouse etc. Software has 2 types - Application software and System software. Operating system is software that controls the hardware. It is an intermediate between the user and computer. Then she explained about programming languages. It is a computer language used by programmers to communicate with computers. They are of 2 types - machine level language and assembly level language. The assembly level language is non-human readable but the system understands.

She then explained the basics of the C programming language. C programming was developed in 1972 by Dennis. M. Ritchie to develop the UNIX operating system. She then gave a detailed explanation about the important elements of the C language. They are the character set, tokens, C tokens, keywords, identifiers, constants, variables. She also explained what operators are and their types. An operator is a symbol that tells the compiler to perform a particular logical function. The pointer is a variable that stores the address of another variable. Only the C language has the pointer function. `scanf ( )` is a function used to read one or multiple inputs from the user at the console. `printf ( )` is a function used to display one or multiple values in the output to the user at the console.

In between the sessions she gave us relatable real life examples which were very helpful to understand. Then the doubts of the students were clarified after the presentation. 29 students attended this Guest Lecture.

The Department of Chemistry organised a Workshop on- Hands on Training on Cyclic Voltammetry (Theory & Practical's) on 15th December 2021 through offline mode for the chemistry students. Dr. Viswanathan Mahalingam, Founder Director, Qualigrafe Author Services Pvt Ltd, Coimbatore served as a Resource Person. He enlightened the students on both the theoretical and practical aspects of Cyclic Voltammetry. He began his forenoon session with the basic concepts of Electrochemistry and related the flow of electrons to chemical changes. He threw light on the fact that Cyclic voltammetry is a versatile method for scientific investigation and innovation due to the fact that most processes involve electron transfer, which makes them be able to be monitored by this technique. He also explained the applications, the technique can work well with a large variety of compounds including organic, inorganic, polymer, films, and semiconductors, among others. Furthermore, the method operates satisfactorily whether in a direct or an indirect approach. He narrated in particular the rapid location of redox potentials of the electro active species, and convenient evaluation of the effect of media upon the redox process. The afternoon session commenced with a hands on session, in which the students were explained about the instrumentation and given a hands on training on the usage of the Cyclic voltammetry instrument.

REPORT FOR SEMINAR UNDER DBT STAR COLLEGE SCHEME

DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY

Date : 17/09/2021
Time : 3.00 pm – 4.00pm
Speaker : DR.VIJAY .V
Technical Consultant (Research) –BioXplora
Coimbatore.
Title : How to write a research proposal?
Session : FN
No: of Participants : 80

The seminar enlightened the participants on research proposal to help the researcher to define the contents and to plan and execute their research. The resource person highlighted on information on potential collaborators and supporters about the topic and the expected quality of the research. Many students find it difficult to understand the difference between aims and objectives. However, in the academic context there is a clear distinction between these terms that means aim is what you hope to achieve and objective is the actions you will take in order to achieve the aim. Break that goal down into sub-categories to develop your objectives. Research objectives refer to the goals or steps that you will take to achieve your aims. Sir summarized that research work must be specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and time contained.

REPORT FOR GUEST LECTURE UNDER DBT STAR COLLEGE SCHEME

Time : 11.30 am – 12.30am

Title : CONSTRUCTION OF GENOMIC AND cDNA LIBRARIES IN PLANT SCIENCES AND ITS ADVANTAGES.

Session : FN

No: of Participants : 80

The resource person has given a wonderful talk on the title “CONSTRUCTION OF GENOMIC AND cDNA LIBRARIES IN PLANT SCIENCES AND ITS ADVANTAGES”. Mam explained about knowing the genome specific trait , evolutionary linkages and the metabolites present and the genes responsible for its production. The main difference between genomics and transcriptomics is that the former is structure and function of genome and later is expression of gene/transcript. Mam described isolation of gDNA , DNA insert carrying capacity of different vectors, synthetic vectors, restriction endonuclease, cloning and transformation, plasmid purification from bacterial cells and Sangers sequencing. Genomic libraries can be retained for many years, and propagated so that copies can be sent from one research group to another. A cDNA library represents mRNA population present at a particular stage or during an event in an organism and contains only the expressed genes at the mRNA level. Mam enlightened the participants on differences between gDNA & cDNA libraries and its advantages. Mam demonstrated using case studies on disease resistance in sugarcane crop. This guest lecture was highly informative and the students were benefitted and gained immense knowledge on genomic and cDNA libraries in plant sciences.

Time	: 9.30 a.m. – 3.30 p.m.

The Department of Zoology, under the DBT star college scheme fund organized a two days workshop on "Cancer Genomics" in collaboration with Bioexplora- Exploring the Bio Era through Google meet platform. The workshop commenced on 18th August 2021 by 9.30 a.m. 41 III-UG and 18 II-PG students of Department of Zoology along with two Assistant Professors Dr. B. Dhanalakshmi and Dr. Sajani Jose participated in the workshop. A formal welcome address was given by Dr. B. Dhanalakshmi. Dr. Vijay, Technical Consultant presided over the session.

In the I session of the workshop, sir gave a concise information on what is cancer? and elaborated on the genes being involved in cancer. He then algorithmically explained on how the wet lab research is being carried out in the field of cancer. Following his brief explanation on cancer he then through presentation explained on the isolation and purification of mRNA- Troubleshooting and handling. In which he briefed about the microarray technology being used in the field of cancer research.

Sir explained about microarray, a laboratory tool used to detect the expression of thousands of genes at the same time. He said that microarray technology represents the most recent and exciting advance in the application of hybridization-based technology for biological sciences analysis. It is a two-dimensional array on a solid substrate usually a glass slide or silicon thin-film cell that assays (tests) large amounts of biological material using high-throughput screening miniaturized, multiplexed and parallel processing and detection methods. Microarray technologies are becoming more important in cancer research as cancers result from the accumulation of many genetic and epigenetic changes. Microarrays are being increasingly used for diagnostic classification of cancers.

By 11.15 a.m. we had a small break for 15 minutes and then by 11.30 a.m. the session resumed. In which Dr.Vijay introduced websites like Geo database, c Bio Portal, Kegg Pathway, Kaplan Meier plot which provides visualization, analysis and download of large-scale cancer genomics data sets. In between the session sir interacted with us by raising few quiz questions and the session went on live.

Later he practically presented and guided us on how to use the above mentioned websites and side by side he made the students had their hands on training in the above mentioned websites.

Geo database: A geo database is a database designed to store, query, and manipulate geographic information and spatial data.

C Bio Portal : The c Bio Portal for Cancer Genomics is an open-access, open-source resource for interactive exploration of multidimensional cancer genomics data sets.

KEGG PATHWAY : KEGG PATHWAY is a collection of manually drawn pathway maps representing our knowledge of the molecular interaction, reaction and relation networks for; Metabolism, Genetic information processing, human diseases, Drug Development etc.,

Kaplan Meier Plot : The Kaplan–Meier estimator, also known as the product limit estimator, is a non-parametric statistic used to estimate the survival function from lifetime data.

After lunch the II session of the workshop started by 1.30pm. Sir started the session with explanation on reverse transcribe and labeling the mRNA a unique approach to selectively label and detect specific RNA using its internal sequence, without separation, reverse transcription, and/or polymerase chain reaction. He explained that this approach is especially useful for individual mRNA labeling and detection. To expose mRNA internal sequence for selective labeling and detection, RNase H digestion is used to remove the 3'(-) common sequences. Sir also explained on scan the microarray and quantitate the signal.

After which sir asked the students to download RStudio software and SPSS to learn on how to work for interactive, batched and statistical analysis. Step by step sir guided virtually on how to use the software. All the students worked individually on how to use these softwares. At the end of the 1st day of the workshop sir assigned few tasks by picking any kind of cancer and to check out the type of graphs and plots used in them and to find out what does these graphs and plots represent. By 3.30 p.m. the first day of the workshop ended with a quick rewind on the topics handled on the I & II sessions of the day and had cleared the queries raised by the students and got feedback.

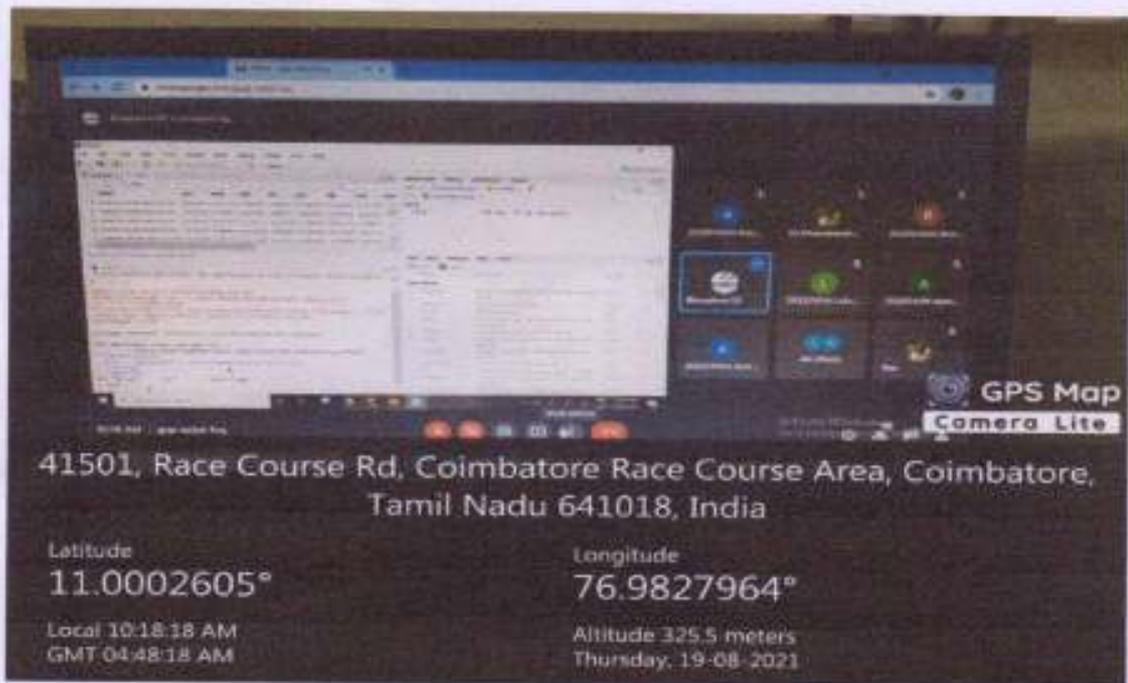

The second days of workshop started by 9.30 a.m via Google meet with a short welcome by Dr.B.Dhanalakshmi. Dr.Vijay had a brief discussion about previous sessions and assignments assigned to them. Sir interacted with the students and the III session was taken forth by Dr. Vijay. Sir begin the session by giving a lucid presentation on RT - PCR. Reverse transcription polymerase chain reaction (RT-PCR), a laboratory technique combining reverse transcription of RNA into DNA and amplification of specific DNA targets using polymerase chain reaction (PCR). It is primarily used to measure the amount of a specific RNA. This is achieved by monitoring the amplification reaction using fluorescence, a technique called real-time PCR or quantitative PCR (qPCR). The students were made to work on R Studio to create heat map by presenting the methods on how to do it through his presentation. R Studio is a programming language for statistical computing and graphics. R Studio's primary purpose is to create free and open-source software for data science, scientific research, and technical communication.

By 10.45 a.m. a, 15 minutes break. The session was then resumed by 11.00 a.m. and further sir detailed on downloading Graph pad Prism. Graph Pad Prism combines scientific graphing, comprehensive curve fitting (nonlinear regression), understandable statistics, and data organization. Sir made the students to install the software and made them work on plotting graphs with the help of the algorithms presented by sir. By 12.30 p.m. we had break an hour lunch break. Then by 1.30 p.m. the IV session of the workshop began. In IV session sir guided us on creating non-linear regression in Graph pad prism software; those who were not able to work on graph pad prism were guided to work on Excel sheet for plotting the sample data.

He then presented information about Pub Chem, an open chemistry database at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) in which people can put their scientific data which others may use it. Pub Chem has become a key chemical information resource for scientists, students, and the general public. Followed by this he had elucidated on cell line culture. Cell lines are cultures of animal cells that can be propagated repeatedly and sometimes indefinitely. They arise from primary cell cultures. Primary cultures are initiated directly from the cells, tissues, or organs of animals and are typically used in experiments within a few days. Later sir explained on the working mechanism of flow cytometry machine. It is a laser based technology used to count and sort cells, detect biomarkers and engineer proteins, by suspending cells in a stream of fluid and passing them by an electronic detection system. Finally towards the end of the session the forum was opened for queries and he had cleared all the doubts of the students. All the participants filled made to fill the feedback form. By 3.30 p.m.

Impact on students: This workshop helped us gain knowledge in the field of cancer genomics and how to work on different softwares to plot the data samples. The resource person presented well and guided us in all the aspects on genomics.

REPORT

Name of the Event : Webinar
Title : Problem Solving Skills
Resource Person : Dr. D. C. Abraham Chandy, Associate Professor,
Department of ECE,
Karunya Institute of Technology and Sciences.
Date : 28/09/2021
Number of Beneficiaries : 106

The guest speaker elaborated on what is a problem, how to overcome, symptoms of problem, problem solving definition, creating possible solutions, benefits of problem-solving solution, process of problem solving, steps in problem solving, barriers of problem solving, strategies that prepare oneself to overcome problems, skills required for problem solving, how to learn the problems thoroughly, how to develop analytical skills and decision making.

Everybody can benefit from having good problem-solving skills as we all encounter problems on a daily basis. Some of these problems are obviously more severe or complex than others. It would be wonderful to have the ability to solve all problems efficiently and in a timely fashion without difficulty, unfortunately though there is no one way in which all problems can be solved.

Interpersonal relationships fail and businesses fail because of poor problem solving. This is often due to either problems not being recognized or being recognized but not being dealt with appropriately.

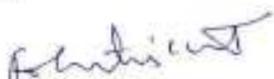

The poster is for a webinar titled "PROBLEM SOLVING SKILLS" organized by the Department of Commerce at Nirmala College for Women. The resource person is Dr. D. C. Abraham Chandy, Associate Professor in the Department of ECE at Karunya Institute of Technology and Sciences, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu. The event is scheduled for 28/09/2021 from 10:00 AM to 11:30 AM. The poster also lists the college's motto "WISDOM WITH HOPE" and the year "2021-2022". It includes the names of the Chair Person (Mrs. J. Palanisamy), the Organizers (Dr. A. Elizabeth, Dr. B. Kavitha, and Dr. S. Leena), and the President (Mrs. J. Palanisamy).

Problem solving skills are highly sought after by employers as many companies rely on their employees to identify and solve problems. A lot of the work in problem solving involves understanding what the underlying issues of the problem really are - not the symptoms.

Dealing with a customer complaint may be seen as a problem that needs to be solved, and it's almost certainly a good idea to do so. The employee dealing with the complaint should be asking what has caused the customer to complain in the first place, if the cause of the complaint can be eliminated then the problem is solved.

The session was mind blowing and useful.

REPORT

NAME OF THE EVENT	: Webinar
TITLE	: Youth is the Best Part of Your Life- Rise, Realize, Shine
RESOURCE PERSON	: Dr. Bhuvneshwari. M Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Sri Meenakshi Government Arts College For Women, Madurai
DATE	: 02/03/2022
NUMBER OF BENEFICIARIES	: 128

The speaker Dr. Bhuvneshwari. M, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Sri Meenakshi Government Arts College For Women, Madurai who herself is a source of motivation to students gave encouraging examples from her own life and inspired students to be a self-motivator, to have faith in God, to help the needy and to become a good human being. She discussed the importance of positive thinking and attitude which brings optimism into life and such constructive changes can make one brighter and more successful.

Youth is a worthwhile phase of one's life. The age where the age group is no longer of a child but yet to turn out to be a grown-up is the youth age. It is an age recognized by traits of heroism, toughness, muscle, stimulation, curiosity, judgmental attitude and even much more.

Youth is said to be the best part of a person's life. That is why we will be questioned specifically about it.

Youth is a period when a person's strength is fully alive and he is capable of doing whatever he likes. This period lies between two periods of infirmity—childhood, on the one hand, and old age, on the other. If you waste your youth, it is like wasting your whole life.

Youth is the age of good health. If you have good health, you have everything.

If you don't have good health, you have nothing. Good health is truly something to be very grateful for. The period of youth is the period of the greatest blessing. It is because of this that in the Hereafter we will be specifically asked about how we spent our youth. The period of youth is the best period in a person's life. What you can do in this period you cannot do either before or after it.

In our youth, we have great strength and energy. That is why most people at that age don't really think they face very difficult problems. What the Hadith referred to above means is whether in this precious part of our lives we thanked God for this gift or not. Were we arrogant, or were we modest? Did we cause problems to others? Were we a source of goodness for others or did we do them harm?

This program helped students to be guided by a positive mind and driven by self-motivation.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

OUTBOUND TRAINING

The pandemic enforced restrictions and limitations significantly hindered the normal routine of college students, consequently leading to a drastic learning gap in terms of life-skilling orientation, besides academics.

The Department of Business Administration constantly endeavors to impart high-quality academic and life skills contents to empower the students holistically; skilled enough and confident enough to brave all challenges of life, pandemic or otherwise. Hence when the restrictions were eased and traveling permitted by the government, the department embarked on this program, to give the students the needed change, real-time and real-world, in a serene & idyllic environment and with physical activities which they, unfortunately, missed in the past years.

The department with its training partner, Outreach Foundation, Coimbatore, collaborated to design the perfect program to equip the students with new-age skills. On the 9th & 10th, of December 2021, the final year students of the department were taken to an Outbound training to Kotagiri. The two-day schedule was filled with enthralling, exciting, and exuberant indoor and outdoor activities per se. The in-doors included planning and building paper bridges, Tumbler Mountains, self-introduction & interview etiquettes. The Outdoors was as extensive and immersive as the indoors, it involved activities like shooting the duck, human wheel, balloon pyramid, lava walk & perfect square.

All the activities were conceived and organized to bring forth the latent potential in the students in the areas of leadership skills, communication, decision making, critical thinking, time management, career planning, and self-defense mechanism. The combined package of activities provided the depth and width of leadership rigors and simulations.

The major high point in the program was the trekking exercise for 10 kilometers, through aromatic tea estates and culminating in the ancient chapel of St. Francis of Assisi perched at the top of a hill in Kotagiri. An exercise that tested perseverance and dexterity.

The program was coordinated by Mr. Francis Xavier, Director, Outreach Foundation, as part of an MoU signed between Nirmala College for Women & the company, to impart niche soft skills and employability training to the BBA Students.

This experiential program was timed to be a finishing school regimen for the imminent business leaders, professionals, and new-gen entrepreneurs to strive for the holistic development of their all-around persona. The two-day program was successful in achieving the stated objectives, conspicuous in drastic and transformative changes in attitudes, confidence, and assertiveness, individually and collectively. The successful conduct of the program has made this into an event, an impactful event that has inspired and exerted the students to realize their potential and be the best version of themselves.

COLLABORATIVE ACTIVITY WITH ICT – STUDENTS ACTIVITY

LEARNATHON

Learnathon is the flagship programme organised by ICT Academy every year for the benefit of the students community. Students of our institution participated in Learnathon 2021 in great numbers. The special feature of Learnathon is that these courses are offered by several companies from different sectors and the course material is also provided by the sponsor organisation. The advanced learners are encouraged to take up maximum number of courses and all these are self learning by the students at their own pace. On successful completion of the course by the students, they were awarded the certificates by the company. In this year Qlik, Microsoft, Celonis, Prime5C, Automation Anywhere, CISCO, VMWARE, Mathsworks were the organisations who launched courses for the skill development of students . 1597 students of our institution had registered for different courses. The following images taken from ICT LEARNATHON dashboard clearly states the Learnathon 2021 , participating organisations, total number of students registration for different courses and total number of certificates received.

COLLABORATIVE ACTIVITY WITH ICT

SKILL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME for students

Nirmala College for Women with ICT Academy , organised a Skill Development Programme “Programming Essentials in PYTHON” for the students. Since it was felt that there is a great demand for Python programming in the industry at present and skill gap among the students, college has decided to offer this course for the students. Accordingly 171 students registered for this programme in June 2021 and it was 60 hours course. Trainers trained the students for 18 hours and the remaining 42 hours was the self learning module and after which they were evaluated and the students successfully secured the course completion certificate.

What we do:

Training & Development: Organizations across the world today, recognize the importance of instilling the right attitude in their employees. "If you want to change attitudes, start with a change in behavior", says the great American psychiatrist, Dr. William Glasser. The change in behaviour requires them to unlearn behaviour ingrained in them over a period of time and imbibe new behavioural skills. Corporate Training in India has, in recent times, made this the prime focus. At Eidos, we not only enable existing employees but we begin with the change at the college level, so that they are already equipped to take on the corporate world and define their intellectual character while carving a niche for themselves career wise.

Our training could be categorized into the following areas for corporates & Educational Institutions alike:

- a. Competency Development
- b. Campus to Corporate
- c. Public Workshops
- d. Assessments
- e. Holistic Development ( Out Bound Training)
- f. Language Enhancement programs

WHY TRAINING

Gone are the days when a Bachelor or Masters degree would act as a passport to a dream job for a young man or woman. Nowadays, employers want more from employees, particularly those that qualify as graduates. What they want are individuals who possess a good amount of 'soft skills'. What are these soft skills? They are aspects of your personality that are coming to the forefront as professional assets - problem solving, teamwork and adaptability to change. The truth is, we have transitioned to a society where it is important to have knowledge but also critical to have the skills to deal with people, find solutions to problems and be adaptable in a world that is shrinking rapidly to more multiculturalism at the work place. According to Debbie Hance of the Association of British psychologists, "There's a saying that hard skills will enable you to perform well in academia and in interviews, but it's soft skills that get you the job."

So, what are 'soft skills' and how might they be useful among the student population?

"Employers want to select, retain and promote young individuals who are dependable, resourceful, ethical and good communicators who are willing to work under pressure."

A cluster of personal qualities

Soft skills refers to a cluster of personal qualities, habits, attitudes that have the potential to make someone a good student and compatible with the requirements of academia. Put simply, they are the ways in which you talk, you move around, listen and present yourself. They are learned behaviours, which develop as a result of ones willingness and commitment to understanding the emotions of oneself and others. Emotional Intelligence is another term used in reference to soft skills. Students who possess such skills are more adept and academic savvy. They are able to gain a further understanding of tasks and successfully engage with them, enabling them to gain more control over their learning. As well as playing an important role in the development of students' overall personality and performance, soft skills also amount to good skills in communication; presenting information in a clear and concise manner; team-building ability; leadership; time management; group discussions; and interviews and interpersonal skills. All of which are important for students' academic development and growth.

Career success or lack of it affects nearly every part of your life: family, income, self-esteem, who you associate with, where you live, your level of happiness, what you learn, your energy level, your health, and maybe even the length of your life.

Some students think, "All I need for success at work is the special knowledge of my chosen career." All that nurses need, they believe, are good nursing skills. All that accountants need are good accounting skills. All that lawyers need are good legal skills. These skills are called hard skills, the knowledge needed to perform a particular job. Hard skills include knowing where to insert an intravenous feeding tube, how to write an effective business plan, and what the current inheritance laws are. These are the skills you'll be taught in courses in your major field of study. They are essential to qualify for a job. Without them you won't even get an interview.

But, most people who've been in the work world a while will tell you this: Hard skills are necessary to get a job but often insufficient to keep it or advance. That's because nearly all employees have the hard skills necessary to do the job for which they are hired. True, some may perform these skills a little better or a little worse than others, but one estimate suggests that only 15 percent of workers who lose their jobs are fired because they can't do their job. That's why career success is often determined by soft skills. As one career specialist put it, "Having hard skills gets you hired; lacking soft skills gets you fired."

The following soft skills are necessary for work and career success:

- taking responsibility
- making effective decisions
- setting goals
- managing time
- prioritizing tasks
- persevering
- giving strong efforts
- working well in teams
- communicating effectively
- having empathy
- knowing how to learn
- exhibiting self-control
- believing in one's own self worth

Learning these skills will help the students succeed in their first career after college. And, because soft skills are portable (unlike most hard skills), they can take it with them in the likely event that they later change careers. Most career specialists say the average worker today can expect to change careers at least once during his or her lifetime. In fact, some 25 percent of workers in the United States today are in occupations that did not even exist a few decades ago. If a physical therapist decides to change careers and work for an internet company, he needs to master a whole new set of hard skills. But the soft skills he's mastered are the same ones that will help him shine in his new career.

So, as these soft skills are learnt, students have to keep asking themselves, "How can I use these skills to stay on course to achieving my greatest potential at work as well as in college?" Be assured, these (soft skills) can make all the difference between success and failure in their career.

Report of the MoU - EIDOS

III Year Undergraduate Stakeholders

Campus to Corporate

2021 – 2022

No. of Beneficiaries: 832

Interpersonal skills refer to a cluster of personal qualities, habits, attitudes that have the potential to make someone a good student and compatible with the requirements of academia. Such skills are learned behaviours, which develop as a result of one's willingness and commitment to understanding the emotions of oneself and others. Students who possess such skills are more adept and academic savvy. They are able to gain a further understanding of tasks and enable them to gain more control over their learning.

For all the III year Undergraduate degree stakeholders, under a complete Arts Placement Training Module – Campus to Corporate Program, a 21 Hours Programme was selected. Nearly 832 students have taken up the course. The classes were held for different batches from September 2021 to November 2021 and March 2021. The following are the topics focused:

Enterprise Skills and Self Confidence, Resume Writing & First Impression, Personal Introduction & Practice, Group Discussion & Practice, Interview Skills & Interview Questions, Mock Interview tests.

Report of the MoU - EIDOS

II Year Undergraduate Stakeholders

Communication Skills

2021 – 2022

No. of Beneficiaries: 726

Interpersonal skills refer to a cluster of personal qualities, habits, attitudes that have the potential to make someone a good student and compatible with the requirements of academia. Such skills are learned behaviours, which develop as a result of one's willingness and commitment to understanding the emotions of oneself and others. Students who possess such skills are more adept and academic savvy. They are able to gain a further understanding of tasks and enable them to gain more control over their learning.

For all the II Year Undergraduate degree stakeholders, under a complete Arts Placement Training Module – Communication Programme, a 34.5 Hours Programme was selected. Nearly 726 students have taken up the course. The classes were held for different batches from October 2021 to November 2021 and May 2022. The following are the topics focused in the programme:

Enterprise Skills & Self Confidence, Goal Setting, Tenses, Presentation Skills, JAM, Speaking-off-the cuff, Articles, Capitalization & Basics of Essay, Reading to Speak, Group Discussions Basics & Practice, Resume Writing & self- Introduction Practice.
